January 5, 1764. NUMB. 1828.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the Captains Jarvis and Dixey, arrived at Boſton from London, in ſhort Paſſages, we have the following Advices, viz.

HANOVER, September 27.

IT is ſettled, that the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick, after his marriage with the Princeſs Auguſta, our Sovereign's ſiſter, ſhall reſide at Lunebourg. The Caſtle is repairing and new furniſhing. We alſo hear that he will be declared Captain-General of the forces of this Electorate.

Conſtantinople, Sept. 1. The late news from Smyrna has alarmed us very much. About ten days ago the Ambaſſadors and Miniſters here received from thence the account of a very extenſive and devouring fire, which, by ſome fatal accident, broke out on the 6th of laſt month, at midnight, and laſting 26 hours, involved in its progreſs the whole quarter of the city, called the Frank Quarter, inhabited entirely by the different factories of the ſeveral foreign nations trading there, particularly the Engliſh, French, Dutch, Venetian, Imperial, Swediſh, Daniſh, and Raguſean. By the Engliſh Conſul's account, not a Merchant's, nor a Conſul's houſe is left ſtanding, except his own, and that not entire, nor without ſuffering great damage. Even their magazines, the repoſitories of all their various merchandize (which had hitherto been looked upon as fire proof) burſt, through the intenſe violence of the flames; the ſcene of deſolation is on all ſides terrible. The loſs ſuſtained is reckoned, by a groſs computation, at a million and half of Turkiſh dollars, or near 200,000 l. ſterling.

As by the accounts received from thence, the behaviour of the Turkiſh officers, during the fire, gave the greateſt cauſe of complaint to the ſufferers by it, all the Chriſtian Miniſters reſiding here, have preſented memorials to the Porte on that occaſion.

Genoa, Oct. 1. Letters from Baſtia of the 20th paſt adviſe, that Paoli continued in the province of Balagna, and it was feared he was meditating ſome attempt to be made againſt the Republick's forts near that province.

Madrid, Sept. 12. Twelve ſhips of war are building in different harbours in this kingdom.

Pau (in France) Sept. 28. The write from Mauleon in Soule, that on the 19th and 20th of this month, there fell there a prodigious quantity of hail, which was followed by a heavy rain, and accompanied by a high wind, which tore up ſome trees by the roots, and carried off ſuch a number of the branches of others, that the roads were covered by them, and rendered impaſſable. This ſtorm extended to above forty villages. Great numbers of cattle were killed, and the harveſt entirely deſtroyed. The vineyards have ſuffered ſo much, that it is thought there will be no vintage for two or three years.

Ratiſbon, Oct. 13. Immediately on the demiſe of the King of Poland, Elector of Saxony, the miniſters and great officers of the Court, and the garriſon of Dreſden, paid homage, and took the oaths to the new Elector.

Dreſden, Oct. 9. On the 7th inſt. the body of the late King of Poland was opened and embalmed. To-morrow it will be laid, dreſſed in the Poliſh habit, on a bed of ſtate, where it will continue for three days; a ſolemn ſervice is, after this, to be performed in the Catholic Church, and the corpſe is to be depoſited in the vault in which the late Queen lies interred. Both their bodies are, after the election of a new ſovereign, to be tranſported to Cracow, where, agreeable to the cuſtom of Poland, the ſolemn obſequies of the King are to be celebrated on the evening preceding the coronation of his ſucceſſor. The mourning for this court is not yet fixed; it is ſaid it will commence in about three weeks.

Dreſden, October 16. Count Bruhl having deſired leave to reſign all his employments of truſt, the Elector has been pleaſed to accept his reſignation, reſerving to him however the office and title of Firſt Privy Counſellor.

Ratiſbon, Oct. 17. We hear from Vienna, that Prince Francis of Lichtenſtein was to ſet out in a ſhort time for Madrid, in order to conclude a marriage between the Archduke Leopold and an Infanta of Spain.

LONDON, October 14.

It is reported that an order is ſent to Portſmouth, to fit four more guard-ſhips at that port, viz. the Superbe, Africa, Rippon, and Achilles.

The preſent remarkable low price of bullion, which is now below what has been known in this kingdom for many years paſt, together with the almoſt daily riſe in the courſe of foreign exchanges in our favour, prove to a demonſtration an encreaſing acceſſion of wealth to this nation.

Oct. 15. Letters from Paris by yeſterday's mails adviſe, that a report being made to the Miniſtry, that in the road of Breſt, at that part which is called Landevenen, a harbour may be made, the river being deep there for ſuch a length as would contain above an hundred ſail; the King has ſent M. Filley, Lieutenant-General and Director of the Genie, to examine whether that place is capable of being fortified, as well as the ſide of the river next to the Ocean.

Oct. 18. Yeſterday a ſhip was put up on Change, for Penſacola, being the firſt ſhip from hence ſince the acquiſition of that ſettlement.

Oct. 19. We hear there are orders ſent to the Commiſſioner at Plymouth from the Lords of the Admiralty, to get the following ſhips ready to be ſtationed in that port as guard-ſhips, viz. Hero, Cornwall, Belleiſle, Montague, and Firm. The Kent, Fame, and Burford, are already commiſſioned there.

Oct. 20. The late King of Poland was born October 7, 1696, and elected King, October 5, 1733, ſo that he reigned exactly thirty years.---It is ſuppoſed there will be, as uſual, a number of competitors for the throne.---Tho' the Poles, in general, are willing to have a native, the powerful Princes, by whom they are ſurrounded, always intereſt themſelves much in the election, and a war has generally enſued. It is ſaid, that beſides the eldeſt ſon of the late King, now Elector of Saxony, one of the ſons of the Empreſs Queen will be propoſed; and others talk, that the King of Pruſſia's brother, Prince Henry, will offer himſelf; if ſo, he muſt change his religion.---The revenues of the King's houſhold ariſe out of his lands and ſalt-pits, and are computed to amount to above three millions of florins per annum, beſides the ſum of 100,000 livres allowed to the Queen for the keeping of her court. But the ſtate provides money for the maintaining of wars, and defraying all other extraordinary expences.

The Algerines have broke their peace with the French, have put the French King's conſul there, and all the merchants (as they have there a great trade to Marſeilles) in irons; and have ordered all the cruiſers they have to take any French veſſels they meet. Their cruiſers indeed are but few to what they uſed to be, their maritime force being of late much dwindled. This raſh ſtep will probably expoſe them to a bombardment, as the French have beſides many ſcores to wipe off with them, for ſome of the Algerines paſt inſults and violent outrages ſome years ago.

They write from Vienna, that it is whiſpered, that when Prince Charles of Lorrain arrives there, he will reſign his government of the Netherlands to Prince Albert of Saxony, who is to marry the Archdutcheſs Elizabeth. Theſe letters add, that orders were immediately to be ſent to the troops in the Netherlands to hold themſelves in readineſs for a march.

Oct. 21. Yeſterday the Commiſſioners of the Navy gave orders to the Copper Company, and Mr. Stephens, to prepare copper-plates and nails, to ſheathe the Tartar man of war, now at Deptford, with the utmoſt expedition.

Mynheer Jan Van Loon, who died laſt week at Amſterdam in a very advanced age, was ſo much terrified at the Engliſh Replication to the information of the Directors of the Society of Surinam, preſented the 7th of October 1762, to their High Mightineſſes, upon the Memorial of Sir Joſeph Yorke, that it haſtened his death. That Gentleman was Preſident, and eldeſt Director of the Weſt-India Company of the Chamber of Amſterdam; and as a demand of more than 200,000 l. ſterling has been made upon that Company, by ſome injured Britiſh ſubjects, all the members of that Company are prodigiouſly alarmed, for fear letters of repriſal ſhould be granted againſt them.

Oct. 22. The Hereditary Prince, now Elector of Saxony, is a cripple, and cannot walk without two perſons, one on each ſide, to ſupport him, therefore he has no chance to be King of Poland. The nobility there chuſe very perſonable men for their King, being ſo themſelves.

A change in the French Miniſtry is confidently expected at Paris. The Duke de Praſlin retires.

Extract of a letter from Paris, October 15.

"By letters from Marſeilles of the 7th we learn, that on the preceding day advice was received there, that the Regency of Algiers had put the French Conſul, and all the French in the place, in irons: That the Dey had given the Conſul leave to ſend a veſſel to France, with an account of the reaſons of his confinement; which gives room to hope, that an expedient may be found to accommodate matters with that regency, which it is ſuppoſed was led to do this act of violence by the hoſtilities committed againſt an Algerine corſair, by the King's veſſels that cruize in thoſe ſeas. The merchants of Marſeilles appear to be greatly alarmed for the conſequences of this affair; by which they may ſuffer conſiderably, before the Court be in a condition to protect them againſt thoſe infidels."

Oct. 24. Some advices from Amſterdam mention, that the States have lately prohibited either natives or foreigners from engaging any artizans or handicrafts to leave the country, or enter into the ſervice of any foreign power on pain of death.

The Dutch were greatly alarmed about their dykes during the late hurricanes and continual rains: More than 4000 men were daily employed to ſupport and repair them.

Oct. 26. On Sunday night the Count de Seilern, Ambaſſador from the Court of Vienna, arrived at his houſe in Jermyn-Street, and yeſterday he had his firſt audience of his Majeſty, to deliver his credentials, to which he was introduced by the Earl of Sandwich, Secretary of State for the northern department.

Yeſterday the Counteſs de Guerchy, Lady of the Count de Guerchy, Ambaſſador from the Court of France, was introduced to their Majeſties at St. James's and was moſt graciouſly received.

Yeſterday, being the day of his Majeſty's acceſſion to the throne, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, Recorder, and Sheriffs, went to St. Paul's, where a ſermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Sclater, his Lordſhip's Chaplain. After divine ſervice his Lordſhip was received at the door of St. Paul's by the Artillery Company, who marched before the ſtate coach to the Manſion-Houſe, and the officers were elegantly entertained by his Lordſhip: They were dreſſed in their new uniforms, and made a fine appearance.

Publick notice has been given at Hanover, that all perſons who have any demands on the Court of Great Britain, or its agents, for proviſions, forage, &c. which were contracted for during laſt war, are ordered to deliver their reſpective accounts to the Secretary of State's Office for that Electorate, in order to be tranſmitted to London before the 31ſt of December next.

LONDON.

Oct. 22. Several transports are now contracting for in the river, and other ports on the North coast, which it is thought are to be employed in carrying over new settlers, and their effects to America; as multitudes are preparing to take the most early advantage of the late proclamation.

There is a report, that all insolvent debtors, now confined in the several goals thro' Great Britain, and whose cases are not extremely atrocious, will have the benefit of transporting themselves to our new settlements, on the usual bounty.

Oct. 24. Letters from Brussels say, that Prince Charles of Lorrain will be a candidate for the Crown of Poland.

Her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales has made a present to the Right Honourable the Earl of Bute, of the library of his late Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

Oct. 27. Admiral Saunders, who had been for some time at Bath drinking the waters for the recovery of his health, without success, has been entirely cured of a most dangerous indisposition by the sole use of tar-water.

The Sarah, Dixon, from Virginia to Bristol, sprung a leak, and foundered at sea. The crew were taken up by a vessel bound to Liverpool.

They write from Toulon, that the Le Fier and L'Hippopotame, two French men of war, and two frigates, sailed from thence the 1st inst. on a four months cruize on the Barbary Rovers.

Yesterday was held a Court of Common Council at Guildhall, when a committee of four Aldermen, and eight Commoners, were appointed to draw up a petition to be presented to Parliament, for repealing the late act for laying an excise duty upon cyder and perry.

The politicians at Hamburgh surmise, that the late change in the Spanish Ministry ought to give uneasiness to two Martime Powers, and that, in fact, they have begun to take umbrage at the augmentation that is making in the Spanish forces by sea and land.

According to the latest accounts, the negotiation for renewing the truce between Austria and the Ottoman Porte, seems daily to encounter fresh difficulties. There is a rumour at Hamburgh, that the Ottoman troops, who were cantoned towards the frontiers of Hungary, have not only drawn nearer to those frontiers, but have also attacked and dispersed several Austrian posts. This had spread no little alarm in Hungary.

From the Hague they tell us, that according to letters from Dantzic and Berlin, there are still some ugly clouds hanging over Russia, which seem to portend some new catastrophe in that empire. These letters add, that the Czarina was so much indisposed that she kept her bed.

The politicians at the Hague say, that Prince Czatorinsky has a better chance, than any other Pole, to be chosen King; but that it is rumoured that the King of Prussia will set up his brother Prince Henry for a candidate, and that he has already secured 18 votes.

The report in the last Brussels Gazette, of four Dutch ships being recently stopt by the English, and that General Yorke had had a conference on this subject with the Deputies of the States, was without any foundation. General Yorke waited on the Deputies on quite another business, namely, to demand satisfaction for an insult committed on some officers of his household at a tavern in the village of Ryswick, near the Hague.

Oct. 28. It is computed that the damages sustained by France and Spain, in the captures of their merchantmen by the Barbary Rovers, amount to ten million of livres since the peace.

A ship arrived this week from New England, fell in with 5 Algerine Xebecks, and two 60 gun ships, cruizing off the Western Islands. They offered no molestation, but only inspected her papers.

Oct. 29. It is said, that bills to double the duty on French wines, to repeal the cyder act, and to reduce the price of porter to 3d. a pot, are preparing to be laid before the House at the meeting of the Parliament.

By the Dutch and Flanders mails, which arrived this day, there is advice, that Genoa expects powerful assistance from France to reduce Corsica: and that Spain is alarmed at the hostile demonstrations of the Emperor of Morocco, and is putting Oran and Ceuta in a posture of defence.

The Ottoman Court, on the application of the Christian Ministers, have sent a Commissary to enquire into the conduct of the Turkish officers during the late fire at Smyrna.

The sum for which the Neufvilles failed at Amsterdam, is five millions more than it was thought at first. It amounts to nine millions of Dutch florins [above 750,000l. sterling.]

Letters arrived from Lisbon yesterday, dated the 6th, bring advice of the arrival there of the Centurion man of war, on board of which was His Royal Highness the Duke of York, who, on his going ashore, was attended by a great number of persons of the highest rank, and, during his stay there, was to reside at Count Carvallo's, his Portuguese Majesty's Chief Secretary of State.

It is said a list of the several losses, sustained by his Majesty's subjects from the French in North-America, in the years fifty-four, five and six, to the amount of a very large sum, is now ascertaining, in order to ballance some accounts lately exhibited by the French Court, respecting the captures of their merchant ships, and sundry other articles, previous to the commencement of the late war.

The report of a coalition of parties before the meeting of Parliament seems to lose ground daily. Some question whether there was ever any foundation for it.

Oct. 31. The Dutch are boasting that they shall soon have a powerful fleet at sea, and are beating up for seamen. They own they have no admirals, yet insolently vaunt they have some captains fit to encounter the best naval commanders in the British service. They insult the English in their publick streets; and have shewn the audacity to affront and abuse the domesticks of the British Ambassador.

It is said that five men of war will be sent to North-America; as also a body of 5000 troops on board several transports, to join General Amherst's forces.

Nov. 1. On Friday the 11th instant is expected to come on, in the Court of Common-Pleas, before the Right Hon. the Lord Chief Justice Pratt, a Trial on an Action of Trespass, wherein John Wilkes, Esq; is Plaintiff, and Philip Carteret Webb, Esq; Defendant, Subpænas being already served for the above Purpose.

Letters from Spain say, that the Emperor of Morocco had put in motion an army of 70,000 men, without declaring what he intends to do with it. His Catholic Majesty apprehending it may be to attack some of the Spanish places on the coast of Africa, has ordered them to be put in a good posture of defence.

They write from Paris that the Sieur Bigot, late a French governor, who is now under sentence, will not have the honour granted him of being beheaded, but be hanged.

Nov. 2. According to some letters from the Hague, the Minister of the Court of Dresden has asked the good offices of the States-General with the Court of Russia, that the Elector, his new master, may be crowned King of Poland.

We learn from the Hague, that a courier had passed through there going from Vienna to London, to ask his Britannick Majesty's consent in writing to the election of the Archduke Joseph to be Emperor.

It is said a certain foreign manifesto, powerfully backed, is soon expected to make its appearance, which will not fail to surprize all Europe.

It is said the government, in consequence of some dispatches lately arrived, entirely to be depended on, have now under consideration the actual state of the naval forces of three different powers, who insolently stile themselves the Triumvirate, and the pains daily taken to augment their marine; the result of which, it is expected, will occasion some fresh maritime orders and dispositions speedily to take place.

Some Gentlemen, of great experience in the trade of Nova-Scotia and Newfoundland, have lately been in consultation with the Lords of Plantations; which, it is expected, will produce good effects in those important fisheries.

It is said that the Governors for America have received orders to embark for that continent by the first of January.

Monday some dispatches, which came by the New-York mail from General Amherst, arrived at the Secretary of State's Office.

Letters from Brest of the 15th ult. advise, that several flat-bottomed vessels, that were going round to Nantes for ship timber, had been cast away on the coast; but the crews saved their lives.

Last Monday night the Right Hon. William Pitt, Esq; came to town to attend the ensuing sessions of Parliament; and Earl Temple is expected in town this evening.

Abstract of the Convention made between the King of Sardinia, the most Christian King, and the Catholic King, concerning the pretensions of his Sardinian Majesty to the Dutchy of Placentia.

Article I. Their most Christian and Catholic Majesties acknowledge again, in favour of the King of Sardinia, the right of reversion to the sovereignty of the city of Placentia, and to the part of the Placentine, as far as the river Nura, as mentioned in the treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle, in case of failure of the male line of the Infanto Don Philip, as also in case this Prince or his heirs should succeed to one of the crowns of his family.

II. Their most Christian and Catholic Majesties guarantee the aforesaid reversion against all powers that might attempt to oppose it.

III. Till such time as the said reversion may happen, his Sardinian Majesty shall enjoy the same annual revenue (deducting the charges of government) which the city and territory mentioned in the first article would yield him, were he in actual possession thereof; to which end, his most Christian Majesty will remit to his Sardinian Majesty the capital sum of the revenue of the said territories.

IV. Whenever the reversion happens, the King of Sardinia is to restore the capital sum mentioned in the preceding article.

V. The King of Sardinia shall enjoy the equivalent for the revenues of the Placentine, from the 10th of March of the present year, being the day of changing the ratifications of the treaty of peace of France and Spain with England; agreeably to the most Christian King's letter to his Sardinian Majesty, dated the 5th of February 1759.

VI. The present convention shall be communicated to the other powers concerned in the treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle, and the three contracting Monarchs will require their guarantee thereof.

VII. The ratifications of the present convention shall be exchanged within a month, or sooner, if possible.

Done at Paris the 10th of June 1763, signed by the Baili Solar de Breille on the part of Sardinia, Choiseuil Duke de Praslin for France, and the Marquis Grimaldi for Spain.

There are two separate articles, the first of which is only matter of form, about titles in the full powers of the ministers; and the other stipulates, that though the convention is made in the French tongue, this shall not be considered as of any consequence, nor be drawn into a precedent.

The erasing and demolishing the fortifications of Wesel, Gueldres, Lipstadt and Hamm, are, by his Prussian Majesty's orders, carried on with the greatest expedition.

All the troops in India are ordered to return home.

Fourteen Men of War of the Line, besides Frigates, are fitting out for the East-Indies, to relieve the Men of War that have been some Years on that Station.

It is rumoured that there will be four competitors for the Crown of Poland; three whereof are sons of crowned heads, and the fourth is a Polander.

NEW-YORK, December 26.

Extract of a Letter from Mobille, Oct. 27, 1763.

"On the 20th Inst. the British Troops took Possession of this Place. Most of the French Inhabitants it is thought will remain, if they are indulged with a civil Government. The French are greatly in Arrears to the Indians, and it is said the Governor of New Orleans is to have a Meeting with them here in about three Weeks, in order to settle Matters."

By a Letter from Schenectady, dated the Beginning of this Month, we are informed, That Sir William Johnson was then greatly engaged with a large Number of Indians, who came to assure him of their Attachment to the English, and to make Offers of accompanying his Majesty's Troops against the Enemy, whenever they shall be called upon; than which nothing can be more conducive to the Security and Success of an Army marching thro' an Indian Country, which otherwise would meet with constant Ambuscades and Opposition.

January 2. About 11 o'Clock last Tuesday night, we had a small shock of an Earthquake.

About 3 Weeks ago, 7 Men deserted from a Detachment of the 44th Regiment, posted at Oswegatchie: They were immediately pursued by a Party of Indians sent after them by the Commanding Officer, when their Scalps were soon brought into the Fort. A few Days after a Sutler was robbed within a Mile of Oswegatchie, by a Party of Messasagas, and carried off, with his Servant and a Man belonging to the Train of Artillery; on Advice of which a Number of Oswegatchies went in Pursuit of the Messasagas, and it was thought would come up with them, and recover the Prisoners.

Last Friday in the Afternoon, the Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD visited the Goal of this City; and preached on these Words of St. Matthew, Chap. xxv. 38, 39, 40. When saw we thee a Stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? Or when saw we thee sick, or in Prison, and came unto thee? And the King shall answer, and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, In as much as ye have done it unto one of these my Brethren, ye have done it unto me. That truly Reverend Man delivered an excellent Discourse on a Subject, which Self-feeling must have made very affecting to his Hearers, who were greatly edified by the salutary Advice he gave to them. Then the good Man, being informed that no Provision was made for the Support of Debtors, he generously gave, out of his Purse, enough to purchase ten Cords of Wood for the Use of the poorest Prisoners, and promised to make a Collection for their Relief, and for discharging a few, who are confined for small Debts, which are not the Consequence of either Extravagance or Idleness.------What a Pity, that such a God-like Man's Constitution is almost worn out by Apostolick Labours!

PHILADELPHIA, January 5.

By the HONOURABLE

JOHN PENN, Esq;

Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennsylvania, and Counties of New-Castle, Kent and Sussex, on Delaware,

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS on the Twenty-second Day of December last, I issued a Proclamation for the apprehending and bringing to Justice, a Number of Persons, who, in Violation of the Public Faith, and in Defiance of all Law, had inhumanly killed six of the Indians, who had lived on Conestogoe Manor, for the Course of many Years, peaceably and inoffensively, under the Protection of this Government, on Lands assigned to them for their Habitation; notwithstanding which, I have received Information, that on the Twenty-seventh of the same Month, a large Party of armed Men again assembled and met together in a riotous and tumultuous Manner, in the County of Lancaster, and proceeded to the Town of Lancaster, where they violently broke open the Work-house, and butchered and put to Death fourteen of the said Conestogoe Indians, Men, Women and Children, who had been taken under the immediate Care and Protection of the Magistrates of the said County, and lodged for their better Security in the said Work-house, till they should be more effectually provided for by Order of the Government. And whereas common Justice loudly demands, and the Laws of the Land (upon the Preservation of which not only the Liberty and Security of every Individual, but the Being of the Government itself depend) require that the above Offenders should be brought to condign Punishment; I HAVE THEREFORE, by and with the Advice of the Council, published this Proclamation, and do hereby strictly charge and command all Judges, Justices, Sheriffs, Constables, Officers Civil and Military, and all other His Majesty's faithful and liege Subjects within this Province, to make diligent Search and Enquiry after the Authors and Perpetrators of the said last mentioned Offence, their Abettors and Accomplices, and that they use all possible Means to apprehend and secure them in some of the public Goals of this Province, to be dealt with according to Law.

AND I DO hereby further promise and engage, that any Person or Persons, who shall apprehend and secure, or cause to be apprehended and secured any Three of the Ringleaders of the said Party, and prosecute them to Conviction, shall have and receive for each, the public REWARD of TWO HUNDRED POUNDS; and any Accomplice, not concerned in the immediate shedding the Blood of the said Indians, who shall make Discovery of any or either of the said Ringleaders, and apprehend and prosecute them to Conviction, shall, over and above the said Reward, have all the Weight and Influence of the Government, for obtaining His Majesty's PARDON for his Offence.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the said Province, at Philadelphia, the Second Day of January, in the Fourth Year of His Majesty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-four.

JOHN PENN.

By His Honour's Command,

JOSEPH SHIPPEN, jun. Secretary.

By the HONOURABLE
JOHN PENN, Eſq;
Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennſylvania, and Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, on Delaware,

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS on the Twenty-ſecond Day of December laſt, I iſſued a Proclamation for the apprehending and bringing to Juſtice, a Number of Perſons, who, in Violation of the Public Faith, and in Defiance of all Law, had inhumanly killed ſix of the Indians, who had lived on Coneſtogoe Manor, for the Courſe of many Years, peaceably and inoffenſively, under the Protection of this Government, on Lands aſſigned to them for their Habitation; notwithſtanding which, I have received Information, that on the Twenty-ſeventh of the ſame Month, a large Party of armed Men again aſſembled and met together in a riotous and tumultuous Manner, in the County of Lancaſter, and proceeded to the Town of Lancaſter, where they violently broke open the Work-houſe, and butchered and put to Death fourteen of the ſaid Coneſtogoe Indians, Men, Women and Children, who had been taken under the immediate Care and Protection of the Magiſtrates of the ſaid County, and lodged for their better Security in the ſaid Work-houſe, till they ſhould be more effectually provided for by Order of the Government. And whereas common Juſtice loudly demands, and the Laws of the Land (upon the Preſervation of which not only the Liberty and Security of every Individual, but the Being of the Government itſelf depend) require that the above Offenders ſhould be brought to condign Puniſhment; I HAVE THEREFORE, by and with the Advice of the Council, publiſhed this Proclamation, and do hereby ſtrictly charge and command all Judges, Juſtices, Sheriffs, Conſtables, Officers Civil and Military, and all other His Majeſty's faithful and liege Subjects within this Province, to make diligent Search and Enquiry after the Authors and Perpetrators of the ſaid laſt mentioned Offence, their Abettors and Accomplices, and that they uſe all poſſible Means to apprehend and ſecure them in ſome of the public Goals of this Province, to be dealt with according to Law.

AND I DO hereby further promiſe and engage, that any Perſon or Perſons, who ſhall apprehend and ſecure, or cauſe to be apprehended and ſecured any Three of the Ringleaders of the ſaid Party, and proſecute them to Conviction, ſhall have and receive for each, the public REWARD of TWO HUNDRED POUNDS; and any Accomplice, not concerned in the immediate ſhedding the Blood of the ſaid Indians, who ſhall make Diſcovery of any or either of the ſaid Ringleaders, and apprehend and proſecute them to Conviction, ſhall, over and above the ſaid Reward, have all the Weight and Influence of the Government, for obtaining His Majeſty's PARDON for his Offence.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the ſaid Province, at Philadelphia, the Second Day of January, in the Fourth Year of His Majeſty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Sixty-four.

JOHN PENN.

By His Honour's Command,
JOSEPH SHIPPEN, jun. Secretary.

GOD Save the KING.

BOSTON, December 22.

The SPEECH of his Excellency FRANCIS BERNARD, Eſq; Captain-General and Governor in Chief, in and over his Majeſty's Province of the Maſſachuſetts-Bay, in New-England, and Vice-Admiral of the ſame, to the Great and General Court or Aſſembly of ſaid Province, met Yeſterday at the Court-houſe in this Town, being the Time to which it was laſt prorogued.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the Houſe of Repreſentatives,

AT the Opening of the laſt Seſſion we exchanged our mutual Congratulations upon the late happy Concluſion of the Peace, and the fair Proſpect which it opened, of the extenſive Improvement of his Majeſty's American Dominions. But this View has been ſince over-clouded by an Inſurrection of the Savages, as ungrateful and unprovoked as it has been mercileſs and inhuman. This muſt create an Alarm throughout all North-America. It is not an Attack of this or that Province; a Diſpute about Boundaries, or a Reſentment of private Injuries; but it is an open War, begun indeed by particular Nations only, but avowedly deſigned to be improved to a general Confederacy of the Indians againſt the Britiſh Empire.

To put a Stop to theſe Miſchiefs, to puniſh the perfidious Promoters of them, and to eſtabliſh a general and durable Peace with the Indians, General GAGE, now Commander in Chief, propoſes to aſſemble a reſpectable Body of Troops at Niagara early next Spring. To effectuate this, he finds himſelf obliged to call upon the Provinces North of the River Delaware, to raiſe Provincial Troops, to join his Majeſty's Regular Forces, and carry the War into the Indians own Country upon the Lakes; whilſt the Southern Provinces are performing the like Service on the Ohio. The Number required of this Province is 700 Men, to be doubly officered, upon Account of the Service they are deſigned for; to be cloathed in an uniform ſhort Coat, and other light Cloathing, and to be ready to march to Albany by the Firſt of March next. They are to be provided with Arms and Tents, and furniſhed with Proviſions at the King's Expence; the Time of their Service may be limited to the firſt Day of November next; but it is to be hoped that they will be diſmiſſed much ſooner.

It is ſurely (to uſe the General's own Words) conſiſtent with true Policy, Humanity, and brotherly Affection, that every Province ſhould in Times of Calamity contribute to the mutual Aſſiſtance of each other: I may add, it is alſo agreeable to his Majeſty's Royal Inſtructions to his Governors in America. And therefore the General may reaſonably hope from you a favourable Reception of this Requiſition, when he conſiders the Readineſs this Government has ſhown on former Occaſions in forwarding and promoting the public Service. Conſider, Gentlemen, if this Flame is not ſoon extinguiſhed, who can tell how far it will extend? We are at preſent at a conſiderable Diſtance from it; and yet if it is ſuffered to rage much longer, we may well expect that it will ſoon come to our own Homes. But it is not Self-intereſt alone that ſhould dictate to us upon this Occaſion. The Principles of Humanity, the reciprocal Ties which connect Fellow Chriſtians and Fellow Subjects, muſt afford ſtrong Incitements for us to aſſiſt in putting a ſpeedy End to this horrid War, and inflicting exemplary Puniſhment upon the abominable Beginners of it.

But Gentlemen, whilſt I am recommending to you to aſſiſt your Neighbours, I muſt alſo deſire you to take Care of yourſelves. It ſeems to me to be abſolutely neceſſary that ſome immediate Meaſures ſhould be taken, for the Security of the Eaſtern Country. The Indians now living within that Part of this Province are not numerous, but enough (even without being joined by others) to ſpread wide Deſolation through the diſperſed and defenceleſs Settlements of that Country. At preſent, indeed, they profeſs themſelves to be Friends to the Engliſh; and it is undoubtedly their Intereſt to be ſo. But will you riſk ſo great a Stake as the growing Improvements of that Country upon the Words of Indians? Will you put any Confidence in their Faith or their Diſcretion? It has been frequently obſerved that they always give the firſt Blow, which with them is the beſt Part of the Battle. This may be ſufficiently accounted for from their total Diſregard of public Faith, joined with the Jealouſy, Inhumanity and Rapaciouſneſs which mark their Character. But I have ſometimes thought, that the Inattention and Remiſſneſs of ſome Engliſh Governments have contributed a good deal to Indian Invaſions; they have been, as it were, invited to plunder by the defenceleſs State of a Country. Let not this be our Caſe; but let us be ſuſpicious in our Turns, and ſhow ourſelves prepared for them, before they have formed their Plan for attacking us.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Repreſentatives,

The Forces I want you to enable me to raiſe for the Protection of the Eaſtern Country ſhould not be leſs than 200 Men, formed in two Companies, with a Captain and three Lieutenants to each, and a Field-Officer to command in Chief; they ſhould be made to appear as like Regulars as poſſible, as part of their Buſineſs is to keep the Savages in awe. They ſhould be inliſted to ſerve during the Indian War; that, if that ſhould not be determined next Summer, you may not be put to the Expence and Trouble of Reinliſtments. With this Force I think that Country will be ſecured, both from real Danger, and the Apprehenſions of it; without it, I cannot be anſwerable for the Effects of one or the other. As for the preſent State of the Forts there, I ſhall lay it before you in ſeparate Papers, by which you may be enabled to judge what is wanting to the proper Support thereof.

Gentlemen,

It is ever with much Regret that I propoſe to you any Meaſures that will be attended with extraordinary Expence: A Conſideration of what is due to your Honor, and neceſſary to your Welfare, is always my Motive for ſuch a Propoſal. The preſent intended Armaments will not be very expenſive in fitting out, nor, I hope, will be of any Continuance. At leaſt I will aſſure you for myſelf, that ſuch Part thereof as ſhall depend upon me, ſhall not be kept up one Day longer than the Safety of the Country ſhall require.

CAME to the Plantation of Frederick Humel, in Derry Townſhip, Lancaſter County, about the Tenth of Auguſt laſt, a brown Mare, with a Bell on, has a ſhort thick Mane, and is marked, but not plain, on one of her Buttocks. The Owner, proving his Property, and paying Charges, is deſired to take her away. FREDERICK HUMEL. ¶

ROBERT PORTER, SADLER,
Is removed from Second-ſtreet to Market-ſtreet, into the Houſe where Mr. John Correy lived, oppoſite the Priſon, where he carries on his Trade as formerly, and makes in the neateſt and neweſt Faſhions, viz.

DEMY Peeks, half Ditto, Scotch Buts, ſquare Skirt and common breaſted, ſquare Cantles Buckſkin ſeated, full welted and plain Kings and common hunting Ditto, womens hunting Side Saddles, embroidered, laced and fringed, Demy Hunters Ditto, common Pluſh and Cloth Ditto, Bridles of all Sorts, Portmantuas, Valeſes and Saddle Bags of various Sorts, common and ſtiffened Saddlecloths, Holſters and Bags, ſtiffened, plaited and gathered Sword Belts and Letter Caſes, with many Things, too tedious to mention. He hopes for the Continuance of his former Cuſtomers, and others that are pleaſed to favour him with their Cuſtom or Orders, may depend on being ſerved with Care and Diſpatch.

N. B. Said Porter has a commodious front Shop to lett, ſuitable for a young Man that is a Tradeſman or Shopkeeper. ⊕ 6 W.

STOLEN from the Subſcriber, living in Kennet Townſhip, Cheſter County, Pennſylvania, about nine Miles Weſtward from Wilmington, on the 25th of July laſt, at Night, a likely brown Mare, 4 Years old Spring coming, about 14 Hands and a Half high, a large Star in her Forehead, Snip on her Noſe, the off or near hind Foot white, but which is not certain; ſhe was not full broke, troted chiefly, is pretty light, hanging Mane, and ſwitch Tail. It is ſuppoſed that one James Stephens, a Taylor by Trade, and pretty well known about his Lordſhip's Manor, in Ann Arundel County, and in and about Queen Ann Town, in Prince George's County, in Maryland, was the Perſon that ſtole her, as he was ſeen with ſuch a Creature at John Smith's, in Cæcil County, and alſo by ſeveral Perſons in the above Counties, though by what I am told he, or ſome other, has diſfigured her, by trimming her Tail to the Strunt; I am told the ſaid Stephens is about 5 Feet 5 Inches high, of a fair Complexion, wears his own Hair, which is of a ſandy Colour, has had his Left Thigh broke, which occaſions him to limp, is an Engliſhman born, pretty talkative, and apt to drink. Whoever ſecures the ſaid Mare, and delivers her to Gerrard Hopkins, or Henry Hall, ſhall have Twenty Shillings Reward; if the Thief is brought to Juſtice, and convicted of the Crimes, the Apprehender ſhall receive Five Pounds. ¶

TO BE SOLD,

A Commodious little Brick Houſe, and Lot of Ground, ſituate in the Borough of Briſtol, with a good Cellar under the ſame, a convenient Kitchen adjoining it, with a Well of exceeding good Water near the Door; the ſaid Houſe was lately put into Repair, and is convenient for either a Shopkeeper, or Tradeſman; the Lot is 73 Feet, 9 Inches Front on Radcliff-ſtreet, and 13 Perches and a Half deep to Cedar-ſtreet, which will afford Room for a Dozen Apple-trees thereon, and a good Garden beſides. Any Perſon inclining to purchaſe, may known the Terms, by applying to the Subſcriber, on the Premiſes.

PETERSBURGH, September 2.

THE Empreſs propoſes to make a journey to Revel next year, and to carry into that port 32 ſhips of the line.

Vienna, Sept. 28. All is quiet in Hungary: We hear nothing more of the incurſions of the Turks.

Brandenburgh, Oct. 4. The King is putting his artillery into a better condition than it ever was, both as to quality and quantity.

Berlin, Oct. 1. Count Woronzow, Great Chancellor of Ruſſia, arrived here laſt Thurſday evening, with his lady and daughter, and a great retinue of domeſticks. The Chancellor has leave of abſence for two years, and intends to paſs the winter at Naples. He is received here with great marks of diſtinction.

Paris, Oct. 14. When the Marquis de Grimaldi took leave of the Duke de Berry, 'My Lord, (ſaid his Royal Highneſs) 'the compliments we pay to other Ambaſſadors 'are words of courſe: But what we ſay to you, comes 'from the heart.' And when the Marquis waited on King Staniſlaus, that Prince ſaid to him, 'My Lord, ſince you 'have been at Paris, you have made the French Spaniards; 'I hope that in the poſt you are going to fill at Madrid, 'you will make the Spaniards French.'

Rome, Sept. 17. A cauſe has lately been tried here, the deciſion of which gives general ſatisfaction. In the month of December, 1760, one Octavio Friſciatti, a very rich old gentleman of Macerata, was murdered at his country-houſe at Civita-Nova. One Cippolato, and another named Spiccia, two of the murderers, were immediately taken, and confeſſed their crime; but a third perſon, named Marconi, who was ſuſpected, made his eſcape: He was afterwards apprehended by the diligence of Mr. Friſciatti's ſon, but conſtantly denied having any part in the murder. The Governor of Macerata, in order to get poſſeſſion of the deceaſed's immenſe wealth, inſtigated one of the two aſſaſſins, who had confeſſed their crime, to accuſe the ſon of ſuborning them to kill his father. Young Friſciatti, perceiving the Governor's villainy, fled from Macerata, came and ſurrendered himſelf a priſoner here, and demanded juſtice. The Governor was turned out of his place, and impriſoned a great while ago. Friſciatti having juſt now proved his innocence before the tribunal of the Sacred Conjult, to which he appealed from the ſentence of the Court at Macerata, the Judge who tried him is ſentenced to pay him his coſts and damages, the Criminal Notary, Joſeph Carlini, is ſent to the galleys for life, Germanus Sanni, Lieutenant of the Juriſdiction, is ordered to be ſent to the galleys during the pleaſure of the Sacred Conſult, and declared incapable of ever acting in any Court of Judicature; and two evidences are ordered, one to the galleys for life, and the other to perpetual baniſhment. The two aſſaſſins who confeſſed the murder have been hanged; the third, who even under the torture denied the crime, is condemned to the galleys for ten years. When Friſciatti was brought out of priſon, after having had his innocence fully juſtified, a great number of gentlemen carried him, in a kind of triumph, to the Pope, who honoured him with his bleſſing, and as an earneſt of the good effects of it, immediately preſented him with a purſe of 200 Roman crowns.

LONDON, October 15.

Extract of a letter from Tripoly, in Syria, June, 18.

The troubles which the tribe of the Ahmedis, or Mutu-Alys, have excited for ſome time in this country, are at laſt appeaſed. Theſe Mutu-Alys are Mahometans, of the ſect of Aly: They live in a ſtate of independance, are very fierce, and make a vow to kill all Chriſtians they meet, when they can do it with ſafety: They inhabit the ſummit of Mount Libanus: This ſituation renders them formidable to all their neighbours, and the Ottoman Porte has never been able to reduce them. They uſed commonly to farm, of the Baſhaws of Tripoly, the revenues of the territory, and the tribute of the inhabitants of the Giubbe, Maronite Chriſtians, who, no longer able to ſupport the extortions of the Mutu-Alys, had obtained of Mahomet Pacha, the preſent Governor of Tripoly, the farm of their canton. This occaſioned a kind of war between thoſe Chriſtians and the Mutu-Alys: The latter made incurſions into the Giubbe, and committed all ſorts of robberies, ſo that the communication between Tripoly and Seyde was interrupted. In March laſt, Mahomet Pacha marched a body of troops againſt thoſe robbers; but the Mutu Alys, having got poſſeſſion of the paſſes, beat off thoſe troops, and forced them to retire. Mahomet Pacha having thus failed of his enterprize, compleated the ruin of the Chriſtians of the Giubbe, by requiring of them the expences of this expedition, under pretence that it was undertaken for their protection. At laſt, a Druſe Emir, named Youſſouf, related to the Grand Emir of Baruth, propoſed to take the farm of the Giubbe, in order to underlet it to the Mutu-Alys, obliging himſelf to contain them within proper bounds, and to provide for the ſafety of the highways. This negociation was happily concluded in the beginning of this month.

On the 22d and 23d ult. the French ſhips of war the Diligent, and the Six Corps, of 74 guns each, given to the King by the Adminiſtrators-General of the Poſts, and by the Six Companies of the City of Paris, came round to the harbour of Breſt from Port l'Orient, where they were built.

The Duke of Fitzjames, in order to hinder the parliament of Toulouſe from aſſembling and undoing all that he has lately done, has ſet a guard over each of the members. The Sovereign Council of Alſace have ſent back the King's edicts and declaration, accompanied with remonſtrances.

Oct. 17. We hear from St. Neot's in Huntingdonſhire, that on Wedneſday Evening laſt, at 45 Minutes paſt 7, a curious Obſerver diſcovered an uncommon Meteor to the South of Capella (a Star of the firſt Magnitude, in the left Shoulder of Auriga, in 45 Degrees 44 Minutes and 6 Seconds of North Declination) from whence iſſued a Fire-ball, which ſeemed about 9 Inches Diameter, which directed its Courſe towards the Earth; its Motion continued about 26 Seconds, and fell about two Miles off Bedford, as confirmed by two Gentlemen, who were returning from Bedford to St. Neot's, and were terribly alarmed by the ſudden Light, and the Ball falling very near them, but providentially neither of them received any Hurt.

Monday Afternoon the Count de Guerchy, Ambaſſador from the Court of France, arrived at Lord Holland's Houſe in Piccadilly.

Oct. 18. The late King of Poland in his perſon was tall, and had a handſome face; but he was ſhort necked, and very luſty. He was good natured, magnificent, generous, and affable.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, Oct. 8.

"We hear from Abbeville, that a youth of Seventeen years of age, of a genteel family at that place, has poiſoned both his father and his mother. Having quarrelled with a man who always was his friend, he determined to poiſon him alſo; the conſequences of this reſolution were terible. Being invited to dine with this friend at a neighbour's houſe, he went thither before dinner, to make his excuſe for being obliged not to ſtay dinner, and taking an opportunity to ſtep into the kitchen, threw a paper of arſenick into the pot. The gueſts who were to dine, were in number fourteen. Ten died almoſt immediately, the other four are given over. The young villain was taken up on the depoſition of a child, who declared that it ſaw him ſalt the pot. It is reported that he has confeſſed all."

Oct. 21. The laſt letters from Peterſbourg of the 21ſt ult. adviſe, that the Empreſs of Ruſſia had appointed a committee to examine into their trade, commerce, and navigation, and to make their report; that Princeſs being reſolved to have a new tariff and treaty with the Engliſh, and other Nations, and to remove all difficulties their foreign trade labours under.

Yeſterday his Excellency the French ambaſſador was introduced to his Majeſty at St. James's, by Mr. Cotterel Dormer, and was moſt graciouſly received, and delivered his Credentials.

As was alſo the Daniſh ambaſſador, for the firſt time, and delivered his Credentials.

It is ſaid that beſides the eſtate in Bedfordſhire, a noble Earl has likewiſe purchaſed another of 1500*l. a year, within ten miles of London, which coſt* 50,000*l.*

On the 28th ult. at 7 in the evening, Mr. Meſſier diſcovered from the obſervatory at Paris, a new comet, which then ſeemed near to the two ſtars Epſilon and Delta, of the conſtellation Ophiucus.

The Hon. Lord Clive has purchaſed the large eſtate and manor of------Walcott, Eſq; of Walcott, in the county of Shropſhire, for 90,000l.

The Right Hon. the Lord Mayor elect being a cutler by company, we are informed that the Worſhipful Company of Cutlers, whoſe creſt is an elephant and caſtle, have obtained a grant for the elephant lately preſented to her Majeſty, to precede their company in the proceſſion on Lord Mayor's day. The novelty of ſuch a ſight, it is thought, will draw an infinite number of ſpectators.

Among other wholeſome regulations now in hand for the benefit of Florida, we hear the money circulation, as intended to be uſed in that province, is now ſettling, which, together with Spaniſh gold and ſilver, it is ſaid, will be a paper currency, correſponding at a medium between the exchange of Georgia and South-Carolina; and that the government will be credited with a bank of 50,000 l.

The practice of ſtoppages in the pay of the ſubaltern officers in the army, having, on many occaſions, been found productive of much diſtreſs to individuals, we hear a noble Lord has declared his intention to cauſe thoſe payments to be more regularly made, or uſe his intereſt to have the cuſtom entirely laid aſide.

Oct. 22. A few days ago was buried at Whitechapel-church, a child of Mr. Wells's, one of the watchmen at the South Sea-houſe, aged five years; her death was occaſioned by a cat faſtening on her neck, with her mouth to her's, when ſhe was in bed and aſleep: in this ſituation ſhe was ſuppoſed to have continued ſome time, when her mother found it, without any appearance of hurt to the child; but ſhe next day complained of not being well; ſhe ſoon after fell into great agonies, and died at three the next morning, with all the actions and noiſes of a cat.

The late King of Poland, for about three weeks before he died, was troubled with an almoſt continual drowſineſs, to which was joined a frequent cough: he was himſelf ſurpriſed, at times, at the kind of lethargy into which he found he was fallen. The day on which he died, he heard Maſs in his appartment, and no viſible alteration appeared in him: on returning to his bed-chamber, he found himſelf very ill, and had ſuch a long intermiſſion of his pulſe, that they were obliged to blood him in the foot, and to apply bliſters to both his legs: but theſe remedies being inſufficient to prevent the return of the ſuffocations and faintings, which ſucceeded one another almoſt every inſtant, he expired about five in the evening.

When his Excellency the Earl of Northumberland heard of the great diſtreſs of the poor people of the county of Kilkenny, by the late floods and ſtorms, he was moſt generouſly pleaſed to ſend a thouſand pounds for their preſent relief, and to order the tin pontoons of the Marquis of Kildare's regiment of artillery to ply on the rivers, where the bridges have been broken down, till they can be repaired.

Oct. 25. They write from Berlin, that the King of Pruſſia, in order to favour the manufactures of his country, has, by a late edict, prohibited the expoſing to ſale of any other, but what are made in the country; and at the ſame time laid a heavy aditional duty on all foreign goods.

This day being the anniverſary of his Majeſty's acceſſion to the crown, the morning was uſhered in with ringing of bells; at noon the Park and Tower guns fired, and the evening concluded with the uſual demonſtrations of joy. Their Majeſties received compliments on the occaſion, at St. James's.

We learn from Madrid, that on the 10th of Auguſt died at Malaga, one Beatrice Sanchez Jurado, aged 118 years, five months, and eleven days. She bore eight children to her huſband, of which only the youngeſt ſurvives, who is now Ninety, and is as ſtout as if he were but fifty. By this ſon and her other children ſhe had thirty-ſix grandchildren, and from them ſixty-three great-grand children and from theſe laſt one hundred and three more: And as ſome of theſe great-great-grand-children are above five and twenty, ſhe might have ſeen a fifth generation, had they married, and had children. She never was ill till about a year before her death, that ſhe had a cold, which was removed by twice bleeding. From that time to her laſt moment ſhe enjoyed uninterrupted health, had the uſe of all her ſenſes, and went about her uſual affairs. Every day ſhe fetched from ſome diſtance a pitcher of water, which weighed two arrobes, and carried upon her arm at once as much wood as ſhe conſumed in a whole week.

Letter from Urney, near Strabane, Oct. 9.

"Yeſterday I went to Caſtlefynn, a town adjoining to my pariſh of Urney, to viſit an honeſt and induſtrious countryman, Wm. Kemp and his family, lying in great miſery. The occaſion of their miſery was this: He had ſome time ago admoniſhed, for his diſhoneſt tricks, Charles Wright who attended about the mill of Caſtlefynn, whereupon Wright was heard to ſay, 'he would give him a poſſet;' Kemp ſuſpecting no harm, brought a peck of ſhelling to the mill to have it ground. Wright ran to the apothecary's, brought rat's-bane, and threw it into the hopper with the ſhelling. Kemp carried home his meal, and had part of it made into ſtirrabout, which he ſupped up greedily, being hungry; his children and family, being nine in number, took ſhare with him, but more ſparingly; ſix other perſons alſo, who came into his cabbin, got part of this fatal doſe. They were all immediately ſeized with violent gripings and vomitings; the doctor being called in, pronounced that they were poiſoned, and the Apothecary had remembered that Wright got the poiſon at his ſhop. In this confuſion Wright made his eſcape; but it is hard to expreſs the miſery theſe innocent people have ſuffered; they who only got a ſmall doſe ſtruggled through with life, but the old honeſt man, Kemp, whoſe death is hourly expected, lies one of the moſt miſerable ſpectacles I have ever ſeen; his eyes, tongue, and cheeks, full of ulcers, his throat and bowels parched up, his anguiſh inexpreſſible, the hopes of death his comfort. In theſe deplorable circumſtances I received from his own mouth this ſhocking ſtory, which all the neighbours atteſted. It now is found out, that this ſame villain, about a year ago, poiſoned James Devanny, and his family, all of whom, ſix in number, died in cruel torments."

Oct. 29. A few nights ſince, a man, genteelly dreſſed, knocked at a lady's door in Martlet Court, Bow-ſtreet, and it was opened by the lady herſelf. He enquired if her name was W-----, and being anſwered in the affirmative, he ſaid he wanted to ſpeak to her on material buſineſs. He was uſhered into the parlour, when he inſtantly faſtened the door on the inſide, pulled out a piſtol, and demanded two guineas; Mrs. W----- replied ſhe had not ſo much in the houſe; he told her he knew ſhe had much more, and if ſhe did not inſtantly ſupply him, ſhe was a dead woman. "Will you not then (ſays ſhe) if I ſhould ſupply you with two guineas, take all the caſh I have from me?" 'No, replied he, upon my honour.' She then opened a drawer, in which were above twenty pounds, and gave him the ſum he required, which he received, without offering to touch any of the reſt, and very politely took his leave.

No leſs than twelve 64 gun ſhips, which were contracted for by the French King during the late war, are ready to be launched in the ſeveral ports of the northern powers.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, Oct. 25

"We are greatly pleaſed with our new Lord Lieutenant, as he ſeems, as yet, determined to do no jobs; and has promiſed in his ſpeech to lay out the redundancy in the Treaſury on improving our linen-manufactures; and erecting Proteſtant Charter-ſchools, which we find greatly wanting, as the number of Jeſuits that are lately arrived here have ſet up ſchools, and ſeduced many Proteſtants, but this morning I had the good fortune to take one of them, and am in hopes to ſeize the Vicar-General."

Dublin, Oct. 11. We hear that on Wedneſday laſt, in the afternoon, a mountain in the county of Wicklow, called Knockacree, within two miles of Tennihinch, burſt, with a prodigious noiſe, and immediately a great eruption of water came forth, and ran, with great rapidity, into an adjoining river, carrying away, in its progreſs, the whole haggard of a farmer at Dackindarragh, as alſo the houſe and haggard of another farmer near that place.

Oct. 15. 'Tis with great pleaſure we hear, that a very great perſonage has declared, that for the future no places or penſions will be granted in England upon the eſtabliſhment of this kingdom, either for life or years.

We hear that the liſts of all the penſions civil and military on this kingdom, that have been granted for lives and for years, are to be laid before the parliament; as are alſo the enrollments of all the patents, and the King's letters for granting civil and military penſions.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the HARRIOT PACKET-BOAT, arrived at NEW-YORK from FALMOUTH, we have the following ADVICES, viz.

HAGUE, October 25.

BY the laſt accounts from the Mediterranean, we learn that the French Conſul, and all the Merchants of that nation, at Algiers, have been chained, and obliged to work as ſlaves: And it is ſuppoſed that the ſhips which were fitting out at Toulon, were intended to go againſt the Algerines. We learn too from Algiers, that his Britannic Majeſty's Conſul there having been ſhot in the arm by a drunken ſoldier, he was the next day hanged and quartered for that crime.

Peterſburgh, Sept. 30. On the 27th inſtant every one was in expectation of ſeeing the execution of the criminals, who were condemned to be broke alive on the wheel. Every preparation was made, and the priſoners were brought to the place of execution. When the ſentence was read, one of the delinquents was placed in a poſture to receive the blows, and the executioner had even raiſed the bar for that purpoſe, when a pardon from the Empreſs was proclaimed. We hear that her Majeſty has granted theſe malefactors their lives, but they are to undergo the puniſhment of the knout, to have the tip of their noſes cut off, to be branded in the face with a hot iron, and afterwards to be ſent to the gallies for the reſt of their days.

Dreſden, Oct. 18. The body of the late King, our Sovereign, was expoſed on the 15th, on a bed of ſtate, in the Audience Chamber, with all the marks of royalty. At the foot was placed the heart of his Majeſty, in a box covered with gold and ſilver tiſſue, with four ſtools with rich cuſhions, on which were placed the electoral Sword, the Scepter, the Globe, and the Collar of the Order of the White Eagle, guarded by two Turkiſh Halberdiers. On each ſide were placed eighteen ſilver ſtands, with lighted wax tapers; and at ſome diſtance were ſtationed two Adjutants General, two Chamberlains, two Gentlemen of the Chamber, and ſix Carabineers. The Chamber was ſuperbly illuminated, and every one is permitted to enter it, from ſix in the morning to ten in the evening.

Berlin, Oct. 11. It is thought that ſeveral armies will ſoon encamp on the frontiers of Poland.

Hague, Oct. 27. The troops deſtined for the Berbices, marched from Naerden on the 20th, 21ſt, and 22d inſt. in three diviſions, and they are to embark in the Texel.

Madrid, Oct. 1. The great hurry and preparations in ſhip-building carried on in the ports of this kingdom, have all of a ſudden ceaſed; it is ſaid more powers than one took umbrage at it, and that in conſequence of a memorial delivered by the Britiſh Miniſter at this court, orders have been tranſmitted to lay up and unrig 15 ſail of the line in the ports of Carthagena and Cadiz. This has occaſioned many foreign ſhip-wrights to be either diſcharged, or embark for the Havannah, where the practice of building with cedar, in oppoſition to Mr. Ruth's ſentiments, as formerly delivered and approved, is now adopted. Orders are alſo gone over to burn all the woods in the neighbourhood of that city, which will at the ſame time render the place more healthy, by admiting a freer circulation of air, and make any future attempts of an enemy impracticable.

Peterſburgh, Oct. 1. We have advice, by the return of a courier diſpatched to China in the month of Oct. 1762, that the intended plan for fixing the limits between the two empires ſtill met with many difficulties; and that the Chineſe had even ſeized upon the country which extends from Argun and Nerzioſk, as far as Selinginſk. We further hear, that numerous tribes of Kalmucks, and ſeveral hords of Tartars have ſided with the Chineſe, and threaten to invade the ſouthern part of Siberia. Amongſt the ſeveral objects in diſpute, the Emperor of China particularly inſiſts upon the reſtitution of the mines on the frontier of Siberia, the benefit of which the Ruſſians continue to reap.

Melilla, Sept. 26. The King of Morocco's army, divided into three bodies, is encamped within a league of this town, and the Alcayd Aljajel is three leagues beyond it, with a conſiderable detachment, which, according to the advices we have received, ſeems to be deſtined to reconnoitre the place. The enemy are extending and fortifying their intrenchments, notwithſtanding the fire of our artillery. They have rebuilt with earth and faſcines the walls of fort St. Laurence, which belonged to us, and was demoliſhed. It is probable that the Mooriſh King will plant a battery on that fort againſt the town.

Cadiz, Oct. 4. A Morocco corſair has taken, off St. Mary's Iſle, an Engliſh brigantine, called the Charming Kitty, William Conelly, maſter, and carried her into Mogodor. She has been releaſed by order of the King of Morocco. But before ſhe was brought in, the pirates had cruelly uſed the Captain, and plundered great part of the cargo.

Liſbon, October 18. The new born Infante Dom John, who was taken ill on Saturday, died on Monday the 10th inſt. and was interred the next day in the vault belonging to the royal family, in the church of St. Vincente Defora. Her Royal Highneſs, the Princeſs of Brazil, has borne the loſs of her ſon with ſurpriſing fortitude and reſignation, and recovers daily from her lying in.

The Duke of York is lodged in the Secretary of State's houſe, has the King's equipages, and was offered a guard, which his Highneſs refuſed. He was received by the Royal Family in the gardens at Quelus, a country houſe of the Infante Dom Pedro, and was preſent at the concert. The evening ended with a Comic Opera, in a little theatre fitted up merely for the amuſement of the Royal Family. His Royal Highneſs has been entertained by the Count de Oeyras, Senhor Dom John, the High Admiral, the Archbiſhop of Evora, the Lord Chief Juſtice, and dines to-day with the Count de Villanova. His Royal Highneſs went to Mafra on Saturday, where the Royal Family are at preſent, and returned laſt night.

Soon after his Royal Highneſs's arrival, the Deputy Conſul, and four or five of the members, deputed from the Britiſh Factory, waited upon his Highneſs, and paid their compliments in a reſpectful addreſs. And his Royal Highneſs has ſince allowed them to entertain him with a ball and ſupper; and now only waits for the opportunity of a fair wind to proceed to Gibraltar.

Francfort on the Mayne, Oct. 22. The Archbiſhop of Mentz has appointed the 15th of November for the holding of an Electoral aſſembly, "to conſider of the neceſſity of chooſing a King of the Romans, of the time and place of the election, and other matters relative to it.

Poſnania, Oct. 18. This Palatinate, and that of Kaliſch, have reſolved to ſet on foot 15000 horſe, and 3000 foot.

Magdebourg, Oct. 17. Major Bilau has received orders to repair forthwith to the diſtricts of Halberſtadt, Hohenſtein, and this place, to inſpect the liſts of the men enrolled for the King's ſervice, and get regiſtred again all young fellows, from the age of 10 to 35 years, and to keep a note of thoſe that are abſent. The report that theſe enrollments had ceaſed, was groundleſs; his Majeſty has only changed the manner of making them.

Genoa, Oct. 8. France has promiſed us a ſufficient quantity of troops, to keep poſſeſſion of Corſica.

Dantzick, Oct. 19. The Saxons at Warſaw, with leave of the Marſhal of the Crown, have placed their moſt valuable effects in the Royal Palace, for their better ſecurity in the preſent criſis.

Naples, October 11. Laſt week arrived in this Port two of his Sicilian Majeſty's ſhebecks, having on board about thirty Moors, which they took, with a ſmall Barbary veſſel, on the coaſts of Sicily.

Genoa, Oct. 15. Letters from Baſtia, of the 29th paſt, ſay, that the privateer, fitted out by the mal-contents, had taken two veſſels belonging to Baſtia, another that belonged to Boniface, and one that belonged to Caprara. Two of the veſſels taken were loaded with flour for the Republic's garriſon at Alleria.

The French have ſix ſhips and frigates of War ready to put to ſea at Toulon: and it is expected they will ſoon be ordered out to cruize againſt the Algerines, who have declared war againſt the French, and confined their Conſul and Merchants.

Berlin, Oct. 29. His Pruſſian Majeſty continues at Potzdam. The Queen of Pruſſia has been indiſpoſed for ſome days paſt; but as the fever is abated, it is hoped her Majeſty is in a fair way of recovery.

Peterſburgh, Oct. 2. According to the laſt advices from the ſouthern part of Siberia, the Chineſe have made themſelves maſters of all the country ſubject to the Contaiſch. This event has occaſioned a reſolution to ſend 30,000 men to thoſe frontiers; but as ſuch a body of men cannot march ſo many thouſand werſts with ſufficient expedition, it has been determined, that they ſhall march by platoons. They will ſet out without delay.

Vienna, Oct. 26. Our officers are ordered not to diſpoſe of their field equipages; and as ſome motions have been obſerved among the troops of a neighbouring power, our Court may poſſibly order a camp to be formed on the frontiers of Sileſia, conſiſting of the troops in Bohemia and Moravia, to which will be added five regiments of horſe, and four of foot.

Peterſburgh, Oct. 7. The foreign merchants ſettled at Riga, have complained to the Empreſs of ſome ordinances iſſued by the Magiſtrates of that place, prohibiting foreigners to ſtay there above three months to trade, and deſired the redreſs of ſo great a grievance.

Since there have happened ſo many bankruptcies, the Engliſh are endeavouring to turn the courſe of exchange from Hamburgh and Amſterdam, directly upon London; but it is much doubted whether they will ſucceed in that plan. The guard which uſed to be allowed to the foreign Miniſters, for the protection of their hotels, and which was not long ſince reduced to two centinels, is now totally ſuppreſſed.

LONDON, November 2.

The Lords of the Admiralty have put into commiſſion his Majeſty's ſhip Belleiſle of 64 guns, at Plymouth, where ſhe is to be ſtationed as a guardſhip, and have given the command to Captain Broderick Hartwell.

Nov. 3. They write from Hamburgh, of the 25th ult. that they were adviſed from Brandenburgh, that great numbers of tents were making for the uſe of the King of Pruſſia's army, on which account the exportation of linen was prohibited till further orders.

It is reported that the Hon. Charles Yorke yeſterday reſigned the place of his Majeſty's Attorney-general.

We are informed that his Excellency the Earl of Northumberland ſupplies about 350 poor perſons twice a week at Dublin Caſtle, with proviſions, and a ſmall ſum of money each; and the additional ſalary of 4000 l. per annum, granted for the ſupport of that high dignity, is generouſly given by his Excellency for the ſupport of the indigent and neceſſitous.

Extract of a letter from Colombo, in the iſland of Ceylon, February 18.

"The King of Candy's party begins to decline conſiderably. The Cingaſeze, and even ſome of the Candians, have abandoned him, and applied for the protection of the Dutch Company, whoſe troops have already far advanced into the country under that King's domination. They have taken the Port of Putula, and the territory dependent on it. The King, being extremely affected by this loſs, is ſaid to have immediately offered to make peace on the Company's terms. We expect in three or four days his Envoys, with the priſoners his people have made; they will bring a great number of bales of cinnamon; ſo that we ſhall ſoon ſee a treaty of commerce concluded between the Company and that Prince, much more advantageous for the Dutch than the former convention."

Extract of a letter from Portſmouth, Nov. 1.

"Our artificers in the Dock-yard are buſy in the repairs of all our ſhips in the harbour that want it."

The politicians at the Hague ſay, that by their letters from Germany, the King of Pruſſia is determined to make the utmoſt efforts to place his brother Prince Henry on the throne of Poland; but that theſe ſame letters add, that ſeveral powers, and particularly Ruſſia, will never tamely ſuffer a Prince of the Houſe of Brandebourg to aſcend that throne.

Nov. 4. The Dutch Eaſt India Company have received advice from Ceylon, by one of their ſhips lately arrived from thence, that their affairs on that iſland were in a much better ſituation ſince the Dutch had made themſelves maſters of the Port of Putula, and the country adjacent; and that it was not in the leaſt doubted but that a peace between the King and the Company will ſoon be brought about, and the ſpice trade reſtored to its former footing.

The laſt letters from Poland, dated the 18th ult. continue ſtill to prefer Prince Czartoriſki to the Poliſh crown before any other competitors, being deſcended from the Ingellinian family, who made ſuch a noble figure when King in that country. What has been ſaid in the news papers of that prince having 150,000 l. yearly income, is erroneous; all his eſtates yield about a million and a half of tymps at 9d. each, which is about 56,250 l. ſterling per annum.

The corpſe of the late King of Poland, after lying in ſtate, was carried to the Chapel Royal in the evening of the 12th ult. and the next evening, between ſix and ſeven o'clock, it was carried by ſixteen Lords of the Bedchamber, attended by the Pages, ſeveral Poliſh Magiſtrates, and twenty-eight Roman Catholick Clergymen, to the Romiſh church, where it is depoſited till it can be carried into Poland.

They write from Amſterdam, that the States of Holland have ordered five more ſhips of the line to be laid on the ſtocks, and to be got ready with the greateſt expedition; for which purpoſe they give extraordinary wages to ſhip-wrights.

Extract of a Letter from Amſterdam, Oct. 28.

"The augmentation in our marine, agreed upon in the laſt aſſembly of the college, held on the 17th, amounts to twenty-ſeven ſhips. It was at the ſame time reſolved, that they ſhould be ready to put to ſea by the latter end of this year, or the beginning of the following, for the Eaſt-Indies.

A gentleman of great wealth and influence, is now ſoliciting for a grant of a large tract of land on the confines of Georgia, which he intends to ſettle on the ſame principles with thoſe of the famous Mr. PENN, proprietor of Pennſylvania; which, if it takes place, may be a happy means of eſtabliſhing the other parts of the Britiſh colonies on that continent.

The poſt of Attorney-General, now vacant, is ſaid to be worth upwards of 7000 l. per annum; and that the Right Hon. Fletcher Norton, Eſq; the Sollicitor-General, Mr. De Grey, and Mr. Sewel, are three of the gentlemen talked of as likely to ſucceed Mr. York in that important office.

Nov. 5. They write from the banks of the river Weſer, of the 18th ult. that a fray had lately happened in that neighbourhood, between the inhabitants of a village called Wagenfeld, belonging to Heſſia, and thoſe of another village, named Wehdem, belonging to the King of Pruſſia. The ſubjects of Heſſia having thrown up an entrenchment between thoſe two places, the Pruſſian ſubjects went to demoliſh it; but the Heſſians, being provided with firearms, fired upon them, by which one man was killed, and ſeveral wounded. The boundaries being examined into, and the ground on which that bank was made being found to belong to the King of Pruſſia, a command of ſoldiers was ſent from Minden, who raiſed and demoliſhed it, and carried off the dead body to Wehdem, and buried it, and the party of ſoldiers returned to Minden. It is thought, as the Heſſians were the aggreſſors, ſatisfaction will be demanded by the King of Pruſſia.

When Mr. Neville, the King's miniſter plenipotentiary at the court of France, took his leave of the Moſt Chriſtian King, he received the ſame preſent that is uſually given to an ambaſſador, namely, his Majeſty's picture ſet round with diamonds. The King treated him beſides with particular marks of favour and diſtinction.

We hear that the late reſignation of a great officer of the law, was a ſtep inſiſted on by his party. A freſh proof that the political combat the week after next will be a tout outrance,

Nov. 8. Sir Joſeph Yorke, Ambaſſador Extraordinary to the States General, is expected in town this week.

The tranſport, with 500 of Rufane's regiment on board, ſaid to be miſſing, is arrived at Galway, in Ireland, in great diſtreſs.

The Earl of Hardwicke having had a relapſe, lies dangerouſly ill, at his houſe in Grolvenor-ſquare.

Yeſterday being the birth-day of his Royal Highneſs Prince Henry, third brother to his Majeſty, who then entered into the 19th year of his age, their Majeſties received the compliments of the Nobility and Gentry at St. James's on the occasion.

The Hon. Charles Yorke, who lately resigned his place of Attorney-General to his Majesty, took his place yesterday as first council without the bar of the Court of King's Bench.

They write from the Hague, that large betts are laid at that place, that the Crown of Poland will be placed on the head of Prince Henry of Prussia.

The Prince, whose interest the Empress of Russia will espouse, it is rumoured, is Prince Charles of Saxony.

The King of Prussia, as soon as he heard of the death of his Polish Majesty, wrote a letter to the Electoral Prince his son, promising to maintain him with all his forces, if any power whatever should molest him in the possession of his Electorate.

They write from Dresden, that the Pope's Nuncio, and the French Envoy, were on the point of setting out from that city for Warsaw; and that it was talked there, that Prince Charles of Saxony would make a tour to Berlin.

M. Gross, the Russian Minister at the Hague, having, by order of the Empress his Sovereign, signified to the States of Holland, that her Majesty is desirous that the Republic should discharge the arrears of her subsidy to Russia, circular letters are ordered to be wrote to the provinces that are adjacent, to make up their payments as soon as possible.

We are desired to assure the public, that there is no foundation for the report of the intended creation of several new Peers.

Nov. 9. On Monday Lord Holland arrived at his house in Albemarle street, from Paris. It was said on Monday at St. James's, that his Lordship would be made First Lord of the Treasury, in the room of Mr. George Grenville, who would be made Paymaster.

By the late Holland mail there is advice, that a person of some eminence was hastily taken out of the Bastile, and executed at midnight; farther particulars are not mentioned.

Letters from Silesia of the 24th ult. assert, that the King of Prussia had ordered several regiments in that dutchy, to be ready to march at a minute's warning, supposed to be for Poland.

They write from Vienna, of the 23d ult. that the Prince of Anhalt Zerbst, brother to the Empress of Russia, would be one of the competitors for the crown of Poland.

They write from the Hague, that the wedding cloaths of the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick are arrived there from Paris, and, in point of magnificence and elegance, are beyond any thing that has been seen.

Extract of a Letter from Cork, Oct. 27.

"The Good Intent, of Scarborough (transport) with the 48th (Webb's) and 56th (Keppel's) regiment of foot, from the Havanna, last from Plymouth, are arrived, and yesterday marched into town. The former regiment embarked at this place for America about nine years since, upon the beginning of the troubles in that part of the world, when it was commanded by Col. Dunbar, and consisted of 1000 effective men, since when it has suffered so much, that nine private men only are returned. The 56th consists of about 200 private, most of which are draughts from other regiments since their return to England. These regiments were the last of our troops left at the Havanna, which they evacuated on the arrival of the Spanish garrison. Two other transports with troops from America arrived this day at Cove, and the men are just marched into town."

Yesterday there was a great Levee at St. James's; and the same day the Earl Temple, Lord Holland, and Lord George Sackville were at Court, to pay their compliments to his Majesty.

They write from Berlin, of the 29th ult. that Achmet Effendi, the Turkish Minister, made his publick entry into Breslau the 19th, attended by a very grand retinue, and escorted by several squadrons of horse: His Excellency was to go from Crossen to Ziebengen the 30th; to Frankfort on the Oder the 31st; to Munchsberg the 1st of November; to Strausberg the 2d; and to Weissensee the 3d; where he is to stay a few days, in order to make his public entry into Dresden.

The King of Prussia has ordered a Court-Martial, consisting of Generals and Staff-Officers, to bring General de Zastrow, late Governor of Schweidnitz when the Austrians surprized it, and the late Governor of Glatz, and Col. Quardt, who are in confinement at Breslau, to a final trial, and to make their report.

Yesterday a New-York mail arrived at the General Post-Office, by the Duke of Cumberland packet-boat, Captain Goodridge, having made her passage out and home in ten weeks, and was nineteen days only from New-York.

They write from Hamburgh, that the Duke of Mecklenburgh is assembling his troops on that side next to Poland; that he has given orders to complete all his regiments, both horse and foot; but that it was imagined that, in the present circumstances of things, those troops would probably enter into the service of some other power.

They write from Hanover, that at the present assembly of the States of that Electorate, a motion was made to augment the national troops with five or six men in each company; but that this proposal was not well relished by the Majority and it was therefore thought that the augmentation would not take place at present, unless some unforeseen event should happen.

We hear that several actions have been brought against a certain great Commander, on account of some transactions abroad.

The many ship carpenters and other artificers, who have been allured to France and Spain, in hopes of high wages, now find themselves greatly deceived, as all the numerous Saints days are struck off their pay; so that instead of eight shillings per day, what they receive scarce amounts to two; and besides, they cannot quit the country without a pass, which is seldom granted till they are past their labour.

Several resignations, before the Parliament meets, are confidently talked of.

We hear that two very interesting causes, one relating to an arrest for debt, the other an excise affair, both executed within doors, and now depending to be tried at the ensuing term, wherein the important point, how far an Englishman's house is to be reckoned his castle, for his protection and safeguard, in futuro, in cases not relating to felony or high treason, and according to the principles of the constitution, will be fully and finally decided.

The Prince of Orange, Stadtholder of Holland, has refused to confirm the military promotions of the States General; as that power is vested solely in him.

The Hollanders are very angry, and say, that they have been cajoled, and made the dupes of England for some years past; andthat now they have given them a King, in a Stadtholder.

We are informed that there will be no trial for the North Briton, No. 45.

It is said an eminent person in the law has declared it as his opinion, that it would be unconstitutional to try the said affair; and that he could not answer it to his conscience to plead in that cause.

Yesterday the Committee of Merchants, appointed to redress their grievances at the Havannah, waited on the Commander in Chief, and were very genteelly received; and were promised, as soon as the Attorney General's opinion on his state of the affair was known, he would give them all the satisfaction in his power; on which they took leave, with this assurance however, that they were determined to have redress at all events.

Extract of a letter from Amsterdam, Oct. 24.

"Be as expeditious as you can in drawing for whatever you have due to you in this country, for there will probably soon be such a change in the face of affairs as will surprise your politicians who are not in the secret. It is rumoured that the English Minister will be recalled speedily; if so, it will give room to great suspicions. God send another war does not, in a small space of time, inflame Europe. Frequent councils are held in this province, but nothing of consequence transpires, except that the Dutch, almost to a man, say, that their marine must be put on a more respectable footing, for to its being in so forlorn a state they attribute all the insults they last war received from the English."

Wednesday the Directors of the East-India Company received a packet, brought from their settlements by a Swedish ship, and forwarded to them by the way of Holland, the contents of which are said to be of the highest importance.

The French King is to pay his Sardinian Majesty 8,200,000 livres in twelve payments, in consideration of his giving up his right to Placentia in favour of the Duke of Parma. The first payment, amounting to 683,333 livres, was made the 10th of August last.

We hear the States General have prohibited the farther exportation of corn, and are forming immense magazines in all their provinces.

The augmentation of the Dutch marine is to facilitate the views of the Family Compact.

Letters from Vienna of the 18th ult. advise, that the Turkish troops on the frontiers of Hungary had committed hostilities against a detachment of Austrians, and had demanded very heavy contributions of the inhabitants.

We can assure the public, that the French Court, in order to avoid any future cause of contention with England about the limits of the two nations in North-America, have actually ceded to the Spaniards, the remainder of their possessions in Louisiana: and as a further proof of their sincere disposition to preserve the peace inviolate, Mr. De Guerchy has acquainted our Court in form, with the orders actually gone to Dunkirk to fill up that Bason.

It is said that circular letters have been sent to the Members of Parliament, acquainting them, that all the material business will come on the first week: and that other letters have been sent, desiring their early attendance in Parliament.

Extract of a letter from Paris, Nov. 1

"The parliament of this city engage to procure the King every year an hundred and fifty millions more than his Majesty's revenues produce at present, and a part whereof, which is to go to the Chest of Redemption, will be destined to pay off the debts of the crown.

It is expected that the first business of a certain Assembly will be to endeavour at expelling one of its Members.

We hear that the Right Hon. the earl of Bute will come to town to attend the service of Parliament, notwithstanding what may have been said to the contrary.

It is said the French have sent a messenger to the Dutch, desiring them not to be too hasty in arming their ships, as it would be near three years before they could be ready to assist them.

Nov. 12. Yesterday the opinion of the Court of Common Pleas was delivered in regard to the debates concerning the trial of Mr. Wilkes's causes, when the Court was pleased to give the defendants leave to withdraw their pleas of not guilty, and to plead not guilty, and a special justification, under the Secretary of States warrant, to give judgment of this term, and to try the causes the sittings after, and the defendants in the two privileged causes consenting to wave their privilege,

At the same time a motion was made in the Court of Common Pleas, in behalf of the King's Messengers, that the fourteen verdicts obtained against them, by the Journeymen Printers, might be set aside for the excess of damages given by the Jury, and the Court granted rules for the plaintiffs shewing cause why new trials should not be ordered in the said fourteen causes.

Yesterday there was a grand Levee at St. James's; after which there was a Cabinet Council, and a Council at the Cockpit, White-Hall.

The French Court is about making some very advantageous offers to several German families, in order to prevail on them to go and settle at Cayenne, in the West-Indies.

They write from Franckfort, that by a letter of good credit they had advice, that the new Elector of Saxony, some days after the demise of the King his father, declared in confidence to Prince Charles and Prince Xavier, his brothers, that after mature deliberation, he had resolved to take all proper steps to obtain the crown of Poland. Next day Prince Charles generously sent him word, that he would readily renounce all claim to the Dutchy of Courland, if that renounciation could engage the Empress of Russia to espouse the interest of his Serene Electoral Highness.

Some letters from Germany say, that the present Elector of Saxony had sent circular letters to all his Ministers at foreign Courts, to inform them of his intention to aspire to the Crown of Poland.

BY Letters from Sir William Johnſon to Sir Jeffery Amherſt, it appears that he had had a Meeting, on the 7th of September, with a numerous Body of Indians of the Six Nations, and thoſe of Canada and Saſquehannah. The following is an Account of what paſſed moſt material in the Conferences with them.

Extracts from the Minutes of Proceedings between Sir William Johnſon, Bart. and the Six Nations, and Indians of Caghnawaga in Canada, &c.

Johnſon Hall, Sept. 7, 1763.

P. M. The Indians of each Nation aſſembled.

Preſent,

Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, Bart.

SIR William acquainted the Indians with his having heard, that ſome of their People had committed Hoſtilities on the Frontiers of Virginia, and deſired to be informed who are concerned therein. After which he gave them an Account of Colonel Bouquet's ſucceſsful Engagement near Fort Pitt, and of the Loſs ſuſtained by the Indians.

Then Teyawarunte, Speaker of Onondaga, addreſſed Sir William as follows.

Brother Warraghiyagey,

IN Conſequence of your Speech made to us lately at the German Flatts, we ſent immediately to the Senecas, to know the Cauſe of their Behaviour; and, on the Arrival of our Deputies in that Country, our Warriors addreſſed theirs, deſiring they would immediately lay down the Hatchet, and bethink themſelves of the Danger in which their bad Proceedings muſt involve their Families, and not proudly continue the War, but conſider their Welfare.

Then our Sachems addreſſed theirs, deſiring they would think for the publick Good, and not permit their young Men to proſecute Hoſtilities; but that they would remember the Old Agreement, whereby they were to keep Peace; and never begin any Diſturbances, whereby they might be aſſured they would never be hurt: That therefore they ſhould talk wiſely to their Warriors, and not ſuffer them to get drunk, and behave as they had lately done, and deſired they would mind their proper Affairs, which was the publick Buſineſs, and prevent any bad Deſigns, by obſerving the Agreement, by which they were bound to ſhake any Nation by the Head who behaved amiſs; and that if they acted as we deſired, our Children yet unborn ſhould reap the Advantages thereof: And deſired they would remember, that this was the third Time we had ſpoken to them thereon; that we expected they would communicate what we had ſaid to all their Brethren to the Weſtward, as we ſhould expect their immediate Anſwer at Onondaga.

The next Day we met again, when the Senecas acknowledged ſome of them had acted fooliſhly, and did not know what they did, but begged that we ſhould return and endeavour to make up Affairs with our Brethren the Engliſh.

After which they returned our Belts; but ours and the Seneca Warriors were of Opinion, that the Seneca Sachems did not act right, and that they only talked; therefore they agreed with us that we ſhould conſider our Safety, and preſerve Peace; the Seneca Warriors ſaying, that we had wiſe Men to guide us, but they had none, which was the Cauſe of the preſent Troubles; and aſſured us, that they would join themſelves once more to us, and act peaceably, and that their Words were from their Hearts.

After this, a few of us were ſent forward to Chenuſſio, where the Senecas have two Caſtles; but as thoſe who went thither are not yet returned, we know not the Succeſs of their Negociations. And now, Brother, we beg you may be aſſured we are unanimouſly determined to hold faſt by the Old Agreement, and preſerve Peace; a neceſſary Step to which, we think, will be your allowing us a large and reaſonable Trade at Oſwego, and the German Flatts as formerly: As for our Parts, we ſhall ſay nothing farther concerning the Poſts, which have cauſed ſo much Diſturbance; but we, the Five Nations, the Caghnawagas, and many others in our Alliance, will carefully preſerve Peace, and uſe our daily Endeavours to bring about the ſame with the reſt; and we deſire the General may be immediately acquainted with our Reſolutions, and that we may have his Anſwer.

Gave a large Belt with 13 Rows.

Brother,

WE now deliver you the Belt which we ſent to Canada, whereby we bound ourſelves altogether in a peaceable Alliance, and we are glad the Governor of Montreal is ſo well diſpoſed thereto. A Belt of 8 Rows.

Brother,

BY this String we are to acquaint you, that the friendly Ottawas near Michillimakinac have brought home your Fleſh and Blood, who were Priſoners in that Country. Six Strings.

Brother,

WE are heartily ſorry that any of our People have been ſuſpected for ſtriking the Inhabitants of Virginia; it is more probable the Shawaneſe have done ſo, or if not, we are ſure we have no Hand therein.

Then the Meeting broke up.

Sir William afterwards aſſembled all the Indians.

Preſent as before.

Brethren of the ſeveral Nations,

I HAVE hearkened with Attention to what you ſaid Yeſterday, regarding your Proceedings with the Senecas, and I ſhall now give you my Sentiments thereon.

Your Deſign in going to the Senecas, in order to bring them to their Senſes, was very well meant; but you know it was your mere Motion, and not at my Deſire; as that Nation had refuſed to attend the Meeting held lately with me at the German Flatts, we had nothing elſe to expect but their Continuance of Hoſtilities, which they have really done ever ſince, and have now Parties out engaged in the ſame; but the Indifference with which they have received all my Admonitions, and your Endeavours, is a ſufficient Proof that they are badly diſpoſed, and can only be brought to Reaſon by a proper Puniſhment.

It is highly unreaſonable to ſuppoſe that any Nation will ſit ſtill, and accept of the Sorrow of another for the Murders they have committed; this would be Folly in us to the higheſt Degree, and what I am ſure not one Nation of the Confederacy would put up with, as you make War amongſt yourſelves, on Occaſions not in the leaſt comparable to the preſent.

If your Hearts be good, and your Old Agreements can be relied upon, you cannot but conſider that every Nation who are Enemies to us, and Covenant-breakers, are Traitors to yourſelves, and are depriving you of Trade and Quietneſs, and, as ſuch, ought to be puniſhed with your joint Aſſiſtance; but we have not aſked that of you, and we only deſire you, who are our Friends, to ſit ſtill, and obſerve that we can puniſh thoſe who have wanted War, as well as reward them that maintain Peace.

Can they pay us for the Blood of ſome Hundreds of our innocent Brethren? Can they make Retaliation for the Places they have plundered, burned and deſtroyed? or what Security have we for their keeping the Covenant half a Year, who have baſely and treacherouſly held one Hand to us in Shew of Peace, and with the other ſtruck an Axe into our Heads?

I know you cannot expect any ſuch Folly from us; and I ſincerely hope, for your own Sakes, you will remain quiet, and obſerve the Event; which Behaviour will not only intitle you to Reward, but prevent your Deſtruction; the General having aſſured me, that he is determined on rewarding and noticing every Nation that preſerves the Peace, and is equally reſolved to bring all thoſe who have taken up the Hatchet to an immediate and ſevere Puniſhment; without which our Childrens Children can never expect Eaſe, but muſt ſpend their Time in War and Conferences, and loſe the Benefits of Hunting and Trade; and, till this Puniſhment be felt by our mutual Enemies, you cannot expect the Trade to be ſo extenſive as formerly, for which you muſt blame your perfidious Brethren, who have ſo treacherouſly ſtruck us on the Head, and thereby deterred our Traders from bringing up any more Goods. However, we ſhall endeavour all in our Power to prevail on ſome to continue it as formerly, in ſome Places, provided you make no bad Uſe of this Indulgence.

The Demand for an extenſive Trade was made by the very Nations who have lately ſtruck us, and the largeſt Promiſes given for the Safety and Protection not only of the Traders, but alſo of the ſeveral Poſts in their Country; yet the former have been robbed and murdered, and the latter ſurpriſed, pillaged, and deſtroyed.

Judge yourſelves what Encouragement then is for our People to go amongſt you? what Reliance we may repoſe on any Promiſes? and you muſt then be of Opinion, that no Puniſhment can be too great for a People who have broken their Old Agreements, inhumanly butchered their Brethren, and deprived you of the Happineſs and Advantages which Peace and plentiful Trade could afford you.

I make no Doubt you will conſider Matters as I have juſtly repreſented them, and I am heartily glad to hear your Profeſſions of Peace and Friendſhip, the Obſervance whereof can never be ſufficiently recommended to you, as the Means of preſerving your Lives and Properties, and ſecuring the inеſtimable Advantages of Liberty and Commerce to your Poſterity. A Belt.

Brethren,

I RETURN you Thanks for the Belt which you ſent to the Indians in Canada for the promoting of Peace and Unity, which, I am of Opinion, that wiſe People will never attempt to violate. A Belt.

Brethren,

IT is with Pleaſure I find that the Ottawas near Michillimakinac have had the Prudence and Friendſhip to deliver up ſeveral of our People who were Priſoners in that Country; and I expect that ſo laudable an Example will be followed by others.

Then Sir William concluded with acquainting them, that he would lay their Speech before Sir Jeffery Amherſt, the Event of which was uncertain, as Meaſures were already taken for puniſhing thoſe who had been in Arms againſt us.

The ſame Day. The Caghnawagas had a Meeting with Sir William Johnſon, and the Indians of the ſeveral Nations, when they ſpoke as follows.

Aſſaragoa, Speaker.

Brother Warraghiyagey,

WE thank the Great Spirit for enabling us to meet this Day, which is, in Conſequence of your Meſſage, recommending Peace and Quietneſs to our Confederacy, and that we ſhould keep our Warriors in Order, with which we have punctually complied; and you may aſſure yourſelf we ſhall always concur with your Deſires, and hold faſt by our Old Agreement, and that we have noticed what you ſaid to us on the Reduction of Canada, when you took the War Axe from us, and directed us to purſue our hunting, ſo that we muſt now be ſtill, having no Axe: And now, Brother, we are afraid that, through the Means of ſome bad People, you may let ſlip the Covenant-chain, which we are determined ever to hold faſt by, and therefore intreat you to do the ſame. A Belt.

Brethren of the Senecas,

WHAT are you now about, or what do you think will be the Conſequence of your letting ſlip the Covenant-chain?

We deſire you will recollect yourſelves, and we now ſhake you by the Heads, to bring you to Reaſon.

You are too apt to liſten to falſe News, and idle Stories; but, as that is no Excuſe for your breaking the Covenant-chain, we deſire you will bethink yourſelves in Time, and pay no Regard to them; and that you will ſeriouſly conſider what we have ſaid to you, and, for your Childrens and Families Sakes, mind your Words, otherwiſe you will loſe your Country and Poſſeſſions.

Do not deſpair of the Engliſh Forgiveneſs, you ſee an Example of it in us, who were for a Time their Enemies; and we doubt not, if you will ſhew a proper Sorrow for your Behaviour, you may obtain the ſame; we therefore deſire you will hold faſt by your Old Agreements, and mind your Brother Warraghiyagey, and that you will take this our Belt to the Senecas Country, which is ſpoken on Behalf of the Sachems and Warriors of Seven Nations, who are all unanimous, and acquaint them, that if they will not pay due Regard thereto, our Nations muſt aſſuredly be obliged to quarrel. A Belt.

Next Day the Indians aſſembled.

Preſent as before.

Conoghquieſon, Speaker.

Brother Warraghiyagey,

WE aſſure you for certain, that on our going to the Senecas Country we perſuaded all of that Nation to Peace, ſo far as Canaderagey; ſo that that Caſtle and Canadiſega are your Friends; and we are to inform you, that we are Eleven Nations of one Mind, linked together in the Chain of Friendſhip, and determined to preſerve Peace; but as to the more diſtant Caſtles of the Senecas, we cannot at preſent anſwer for them, as our Meſſengers are not returned from thence: And as you may rely on our Reſolutions, we earneſtly requeſt you will, on your Parts, be as careful of obſerving the Peace as we are. A large Belt.

Brother,

ON the Declarations you made us at the German Flatts, of the General's favourable Diſpoſition towards all thoſe who are peaceable, and that he had no Deſigns againſt us who were Friends, we unanimouſly agreed to continue ſo, and to keep our Warriors at home, according to the Old Agreement. And we deſire you will not believe we are a proud People, inclined to quarrel, but that we are all well-diſpoſed: We likewiſe beg, that in Conſequence of theſe our Reſolutions you will not break your Engagements with us your Friends, as we are determined never to ſtrike firſt, but only to defend ourſelves in caſe of being attacked. Two Belts together.

Brother,

WE requeſt you will pay the moſt ſerious Attention to what we ſhall now ſay, in the Name of us all.

We are very ſenſible of the Hoſtilities committed, and Indignities offered you, which we know muſt awaken your Reſentment; and that therefore you will probably have Occaſion to uſe the Road up the Country, which was formerly conſidered as a Road of Peace; therefore knowing your Foot to be large and broad, we earneſtly deſire you will take Care and not touch us your Friends therewith in paſſing the ſame, as we ſhall give you no Hindrance; and we have further to requeſt, that you will not hurt the Party of ours, which is now out againſt the Southern Indians, as we are certain they will do you no Harm. A Belt.

Then the Meeting broke up for this Time.

The 10th. Sir William had a Meeting with all the Nations, when he aſſured them, That ſhould any Nation whatſoever, from a Diſlike of their Fidelity to us, and their preſent Engagements, fall upon their Confederacy, they ſhould find we would afford them both Aſſiſtance and Protection: And, that as they had acted ſo friendly a Part, as well as for a Reward of their Trouble in endeavouring to prevent any further Hoſtilities, and an Encouragement to them to act as became our Friends, he, in His Majeſty's Name, had prepared a Preſent for them, which ſhould be delivered out the next Day, recommending it to them to act ſuch a Part for the future, as ſhould make them appear worthy our Favour.

11th. All the Nations aſſembled, when Tiyerhaſere addreſſed Sir William Johnſon as follows, on Behalf of the reſt.

Brother Gorah Warraghiyagey,

I AM now, on Behalf of all the Confederacy, conſiſting of Eighteen Nations, including Seven in Canada, to return you their moſt hearty Thanks for the wholeſome Admonitions you gave them; and I am, in their Name, to aſſure you, that they are determined to pay the greateſt Regard to them: Were they not ſo inclined, they would not have taken ſo much Pains as they have done, to preſerve Peace in thoſe Parts. I am further to aſſure you, they will never forget the friendly Offers you have made them of Aſſiſtance and Protection. As we know we can rely on your Promiſes, we ſhall take your Belt, and what you have ſaid thereon, to our Council Fire at Onondaga; and, after we have acquainted all our People therewith, ſhall ſend you a Belt in Exchange, with our further Sentiments.

Then the Onondaga Speaker ſtood up, and taking a large convenient Chain Belt in his Hand, delivered to them at Albany in 1754, by the Governor, in the Preſence of Commiſſioners from the ſeveral Governments, he repeated the Engagements made thereon, and then, on Behalf of the Eighteen Nations, brightened and renewed the ſame, which he deſired Sir William Johnſon ſhould acquaint the General and Governor with, and let them know that ſo many Nations were our Friends, and determined to remain ſo, whilſt we treated them in a peaceable, friendly Manner.

Sir William Johnſon anſwered them, That he was well pleaſed they had remembered their Engagements, the Obſervance of which he ſtrictly recommended to them, as we ſhould, on our Parts, ſtrictly obſerve the ſame, whilſt they adhered thereto; adding, that he would acquaint the General with their Proceedings, and made no Doubt but he would approve thereof, with which they ſhould be made acquainted.

12th. A. M. Delivered out a Preſent to the Indians.

Then aſſembled the Caghnawagas, when Sir William Johnſon addreſſed them as follows.

Brethren of Caghnawaga,

I HAVE heard with Satisfaction the Speech you made to the Six Nations in general, and to the Senecas in particular: The Manner in which you expreſſed your Diſapprobation of their Conduct, convinces me of your Sincerity and good Senſe, and in Juſtice to you, I ſhall lay it before the General, and alſo ſend it home, that the Great King may know your good Diſpoſition, and honeſt Intention. A large String.

Brethren,

YOUR concurring with my Requeſt lately made to your Nations by Capt. Claus, my Deputy, and your preſent Promiſes of a due Obſervance of the Treaty of Peace and Friendſhip into which you, and ſeveral other Nations, were received, on the Reduction of Canada, gives me much Pleaſure.

The Wiſdom which your Sachems and Chiefs have manifeſted in adhering thereto, leaves me no Doubt of your holding the Violators thereof in the greateſt Deteſtation, and of concurring with us in bringing them to Puniſhment, which I ſtrongly recommend to you. A Belt.

On the Reduction of Canada we became one People, and Peace was eſtabliſhed throughout the Country; Trade was beginning to flouriſh to our mutual Advantage, when, on a ſudden, theſe fooliſh, treacherous Nations, whom we took into the Chain of Friendſhip with you, and the reſt of our Brethren, without any Notice or Provocation, fell upon our Traders, butchering and captivating them, taking the Goods deſigned for their Conveniency, and that of others, ſurprizing by the vileſt Stratagems, and deſtroying the King's Poſts and Troops, who were, for the Protection of Trade, poſted in their ſeveral Countries; by which unwarrantable Behaviour, they have ſullied the Covenant-chain, which we brightened ſo lately, and thereby debarred the well-diſpoſed Indians of the Benefit of Trade and good Offices which the Engliſh intended, and were inclined to do them.

At the Treaty with you, on the Conqueſt of Canada, I conſidered the Axe, given you by the French, as a dangerous Weapon amongſt Friends; and therefore, on receiving you into our Alliance, I buried the ſame, by pulling up a large Pine Tree, under which run a Stream of Water, into which I caſt the Axe, ſo that it might no more be found. But as the Covenant-chain, which was then brightened and renewed by us, is broken by thoſe quarrelſome bad People, whom we received amongſt the Number of our Friends, I think it neceſſary that you, as People who held the ſame, ſhould be enabled to defend yourſelves, and act agreeable to your Engagements, in Concert with your Brethren the Engliſh, againſt all who have violated the ſaid Agreement.

I now therefore deliver you a good Engliſh Axe, made of the beſt Stuff, which I deſire you will give to the Warriors of all your Nations, with Directions to uſe the ſame againſt theſe Covenant-breakers, by cutting off the bad Links, which have ſullied the Chain of Friendſhip, in which they will not fail being ſupported by their Brethren the Engliſh. A large Black Belt.

LONDON.

Oct. 29. During the inter-regnum in Poland, the Primate, who is then the chief of the Republic, diſpatches his Univerſalia to the ſeveral provinces for a general aſſembly; a deputation of Senators is likewiſe ſent to the army, to aſſiſt the Generals with their councils, and an exact inventory is taken of the treaſure of the Crown: All the tribunals are then diſcontinued, and every juriſdiction, except thoſe of the Marſhals, entirely ceaſes. The aſſembly is at laſt held on horſeback, near Warſaw, in the open fields, which is ſurrounded with ditches, and covered over with boards; they call it the Colo. On the day fixed for the opening the Diet, the Senators and the Nuncios are preſent at the celebration of a Maſs of the Holy Ghoſt, in the church of St. John, at Warſaw, after which they repair to the Colo, and when they have elected a Marſhal of the Nuncios, they form a confederation, or treaty, by which the Members of the Diet take an oath, not to ſeparate till they have elected a King, and not to acknowledge any candidate, if he has not been elected by their unanimous approbation, nor render him any act of obedience, till he has ſworn to obſerve the Pacta Conventa, and the other laws of the kingdom.

There are now ſuch immenſe quantities of corn in the different ports of Spain, France and Portugal, which have been exported from England, that ſhipmaſters are obliged to make great intereſt in having their ſhips unloaded; and many of them are obliged to wait ſo long, that the expences of the voyage conſumes the profit: It is ſaid ſeveral thouſand buſhels are now ſhipping off for the Havannah, and other Spaniſh and French Iſlands in the Weſt-Indies.

Oct. 31. A Captain in the Weſt-India trade has lately diſcovered a very eaſy and ſingular method of working a ſhip's pumps at ſea, by means of a ſimple mechanical engine, which the leaſt breeze of wind puts in motion.

Nov. 4. Letters from France by the way of Holland adviſe, that the King has deſired all the parliaments of the kingdom to ſend two of their number to Court, to ſettle what is at preſent in agitation concerning the money edicts.

We can with pleaſure obſerve, that by an account juſt publiſhed at the end of a printed ſermon, lately preached by the celebrated Dr. Delany before Sir Robert Ladbroke, Preſident, and the Truſtees of the ſeveral charity-ſchools belonging to this city and ſuburbs, it appears that 3523 boys are at this time cloathed and educated, and ſome of them qualified for ſea ſervice; and 2205 girls are alſo cloathed and educated, and many of them wholly maintained, by the voluntary contributions of the public, and the generous legacies of well-diſpoſed benefactors.

Nov. 10. We can aſſure the public, that ſo ſcarce are the opportunities of diſcounting in Holland, and ſo plenty is money there, that the rate of diſcount upon foreign bills is reduced to 2 1-fourth and 2 per cent. which has already brought over large ſums of money to be veſted in our funds, and very conſiderable ſums are contracted for by way loan upon government ſecurities, to the great diſappointment of the diſaffected part of this nation, whom faction has ſo hardened as to rejoice in every calamity that can occaſion public or private diſtreſs.

We hear, as the winter ſeaſon advances, the better to prevent the practice of ſmuggling, 20 more cutters are preparing to be put in commiſſion, which are to be ſtationed in the two channels, and the coaſt of Scotland, as occaſion requires.

Extract of a letter from Paris, Oct. 31.

"In order to ſecond the intentions of the miniſtry, and effectually enable them to protect our commerce, a ſociety of opulent men have offered (in conſideration of certain advantages which they demand) to give and deliver to the King, in the ſpace of four years, 12 ſhips of the line, from 70 to 80 guns; and afterwards, every two years they will find his Majeſty one ſhip of 74 guns, the firſt of which ſhall be delivered within ſix years, and ſo on ſucceſſively, every two years, as long as the Company enjoy the advantages they requeſt; all which ſhips ſhall be built at ſuch ports as the miniſtry may pleaſe to appoint, and on the plans or models that ſhall be delivered to the Company.

"And in order to enable the government to unite its naval forces in time of war, and keep a greater number of ſhips at ſea without expoſing the coaſts, and the coaſting trade to the enemy's inſults; the Company will engage, from the day they may be eſtabliſhed, to watch over the ſafety of both; and to this end they will maintain at their own expence 12 frigates, from 24 to 40 guns, which ſhall be employed in chaſing pirates, moleſting the navigation of enemies, and protecting our merchantmen."----If the French Court is bent upon creating new broils in Europe, theſe propoſals will certainly be accepted; and then it will be incumbent on the Britiſh nation to alter their plan of œconomy, and their fooliſh methods of funding; and above all things the heads of a warlike people ſhould carefully avoid manifeſting a ſtrong inclination to peace, becauſe it muſt of courſe encourage their neighbours to prepare for new inſults and depredations, and naturally diſpirit or diſcontent our own ſubjects.

Nov. 11. Several riots have already been raiſed in different parts of Holland, on account of ſome efforts to introduce a new military eſtabliſhment in the militia, which has occaſioned many lives to be loſt.

About a fortnight ſince a lad found a parcel of papers in one of the Streets in this city, and being ignorant of their contents, carried them to a ſtock-broker, near the Royal Exchange, who not being at home, his wife purchaſed them for 1l. 6s. On examination they proved to be Dutch bank-bills, and, we hear, that on Monday ſe'nnight laſt they were ſold, with a proper ſalvo to any future claimant, for 15,000l.

This morning arrived a mail from France, by which we have an account of a terrible inundation in the province of Perpignan, which happened in the night between the 16th and 17th ult. The 16th in the evening, though there had not then been any violent rain, the three rivers Vagly, de la Tette, and du Tec, roſe ſuddenly to ſuch a pitch, that they overflowed in many parts, and deſtroyed all the neighbouring country; carrying away a number of bridges, mills, houſes, &c. and ſeveral perſons periſhed; 11 were drowned in the ſingle village of Prats de Molo, and 12 houſes there were entirely waſhed away by the torrent.

Providence (Rhode-Iſland), December 17.

A gentleman who arrived here a few days ago, in 35 Days from Surinam, brings us very unfavourable Accounts of the Situation of Affairs in the Dutch Colony of Berbicia. The Ravages and horrid Cruelties of the Negroes, added to the extream Sickline's of the Seaſon, having reduced the White People there to the laſt Extremity, and nothing but the ſpeedy Arrival of Succour can preſerve the Settlement from entire Ruin.---The Mortality among the Whites was ſo great, that out of 180 Men, who were ſent there from St. Euſtatius, in an armed Veſſel, 100 of them died in a ſhort Time.---The Indian Natives of that Country have been very ſerviceable to the Dutch, and ſtill continue in their Intereſt;---and about a Week before this Gentlemen left Surinam, the Captain of an armed Veſſel arrived there with an Account, that the Negroes having ſent Word to the White People that they intended to pay them a Viſit on a certain Day, a Number of Indians made an Attack on the Negroes by Surpriſe, the Day before their intended Viſit, in which they killed 200 of them, with inconſiderable Loſs on their Side----That notwithſtanding this Check, the Negroes ſtill maintained their Ground, and poſſeſs the beſt part of the Settlement, managing the Plantations with ſurpriſing Induſtry, for their own Support.

The ſame Gentleman further informs us, that Advice had been received at Surinam from Cayenne, that a Number of Tranſports from France, with 1000 French Families, were arrived, in order to ſettle there:---That the Man of War which convoyed thoſe Tranſports, on her Paſſage fell in with a Dutch Eaſt-India Ship, homeward-bound, the Crew of which had mutinied, killed the Captain and Mate, and got the Command of the Veſſel, with a rich Cargo on board: The French Captain luckily diſcovering the tragical Affair, took Poſſeſſion of her, and carried her into Cayenne, where the rebellious Crew were under Confinement. We have no further Particulars reſpecting that Affair.

BOSTON, January 2.

We hear the Surveyor-General has given ſtrict Orders to all Officers of his Majeſty's Cuſtoms in North-America, to be very vigilant and attentive at their reſpective Ports and Stations, in executing the Sugar-Act, as well as all other Acts of Parliament relating to the Plantation Trade.

Capt. Jonas Deane, in a Sloop from the Eaſtward, loaded with Lumber, in the Storm about a Fortnight ago, ſprung a leak, and filled ſo quick, that the People had but juſt Time to get into their Boat, in which they were three Days without Proviſions, before they reached the Shore.

The Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD, we hear, was to take Paſſage in the Newport Packet-boat the firſt Week in January, for Rhode-Iſland, in his Way to this Place.

January 9. We hear from Halifax, that on the 1ſt of laſt Month his Majeſty's Sloop Senegal arrived there from Louiſburgh, and brought in with her a Sloop from Lisbon, bound to Plymouth, loaded with Salt, Wine, Lemons, &c.

We hear that the Shipping at Hiſpaniola has ſuffer'd great Damage in a violent Hurricane, which happened laſt Month, particularly at Ocoy, where nine Sail were drove on ſhore, and moſt of them entirely loſt.

A Letter from Newport, dated Jan. 5, ſays, Capt. Collins in a Sloop from the Weſt-Indies is caſt aſhore at Point Judith, the Mens lives all ſaved, but 'tis feared the Veſſel and Cargo will be loſt.

Capt. Scott, in a Brig, is caſt away on the Back of Long-Iſland, the Veſſel ſtove to Pieces, and all the Crew periſhed.

NEW-YORK, January 16.

The New Hope, Capt. Fell, was to ſail for New-York from London the Week after Saturday the 12th November.

The Merchants of Boſton have preſented a Remonſtrance to the General Court, praying them to uſe their Influence with the Lords commiſſioners, for leſſening the Duty on Sugar, Melaſſes, &c. and that they were tranſmitting copies of the ſame to this, and ſeveral other Governments, for their concurrence and joint endeavours for effecting that purpoſe.

We are credibly informed that, very lately the Chenuſſies, (Upper Caſtles of the Seneca Indians) have offered to make Peace with the Engliſh: That the Five Nations are ready to declare War againſt the perfidious Delawares, Shawaneſe, or any other Indian Tribes, who have offenſively acted againſt us. The Canada Indians have all declared in our Favour; but more eſpecially the Cahgnawagas, who, with the other Nations, will commence Hoſtilities againſt all the Savages in Enmity with us. This intereſting News muſt be very agreeable to our expoſed Colonies.

Laſt Week, the Ship New-Grace, of this Port, Captain Clark, from Newcaſtle, in Old-England, was caſt away at the Eaſt End of Long-Iſland; and it is feared the Veſſel and moſt part of the Cargo will be loſt.

January 19. On Sunday Night laſt, the City was alarmed by the ringing of the Bells, and the Cry of Fire, but it proved to be a Riot of a Party of Soldiers, to reſcue a Priſoner for Debt, from the New Goal in this City---the following particular Account of which we have inſerted at the earneſt requeſt of ſome of the Priſoners. In this Riot a few Perſons were wounded or hurt, and one Sergeant was killed.

On Sunday Night laſt, about half after Nine, a gang of riotous Soldiers, armed with Guns and Axes, entered the Goal of this City. The Front Door being open, they were ſtopped by that which ſeparates the Keeper's Lodgings from the Parts deſigned for Confinement, where they firſt diſcovered themſelves, by ſhouting and huzzaing, Major Rogers. They demanded of Mr. Mills the Keys of the Goal, and on his Refuſal grew very furious. He ſtruggled a long Time with them, without being heard by any Body above Stairs, and in the Darkneſs and Confuſion received a ſlight Cut in the Head, and a violent Bruiſe in the Shoulder; tho' it does not appear that they deſign'd him any perſonal Hurt. The Noiſe at laſt being heard, one of the Priſoners went to the Grate, and heard the Goaler calling to the Turnkey, and ſaying, that Soldiers came to reſcue Major Rogers, he return'd to the Room where he had before been ſitting with the Major and other Priſoners, and related what he had heard. The Major appeared very uneaſy, and behaved with great Decency---I am afraid, ſaid he, they will ruin me. He was deſired to interpoſe, to pacify the Soldiers, and prevent Miſchief, but ſome Body having ſhut the Door that covers the Grate, and the Rioters finding themſelves deprived of the Light of the Lamps, they grew more outrageous, and fired thro' the Grate, the Ball grazed the Major's Eye Brow, and wounded him. He withdrew to the Room he was in before, and ſaid, they will undo me, they will certainly undo me.

The Soldiers ſoon forced all the Doors, and demanded the Major, who, with other Gentlemen, ſtood at the Door of the Room where they had paſſed the Evening.---He told them he was the Major, and aſk'd what they wanted of him. One of them took him by the Collar, and ſaid, Come, Sir, you are my Priſoner. The Major replied, Indeed I am afraid, Gentlemen, you will ruin me. He was immediately carried away.---[N. B. There was no Stranger in the Goal, which had been ſecured and lock'd up more early than uſual, ever ſince the Major's Confinement.] Soon after, a great Number of Soldiers, chiefly arm'd with Guns, enter'd the Hall in the moſt riotous Manner, demanding the Major, and breaking all the Locks from the Doors, from the Cupola down to the Dungeons, not excepting thoſe where Criminals for the moſt atrocious Offences were confin'd. They told the Debtors, they were come to pay off their Debts; that they were their Priſoners, but that they would immediately ſet them at large: They preſented their Guns to the Breaſts of all the Priſoners, to force them to leave the Goal. But tho' many of the Debtors are confined for large Sums, yet, to their Honour, one only took the Opportunity---and that one confined for not above £ 80 Currency. The Priſoners from before 10 till about 12 were not only at full Liberty to go off, but many of them were driven by Force out of the Goal, Some of them return'd immediately, and others the next Morning. They purſuaded the Rioters, at length to retire, ſince all that had a mind to it had ſufficient Time to eſcape. The Soldiers all went away, but ſome of them being in Liquor, and exulting in their Exploit, return'd again, and delay'd till the City Militia came up, headed by their Officers, who acted with great Firmneſs. The Goal was ſecured by a proper Guard, and Quiet was ſoon reſtored. Some petty Offenders were retaken, and of 35 priſoners 11 only were miſſing, 6 of whom return'd before Noon, and but 4 have made uſe of the Opportunity to get off: An Inſtance this, of the too great Diſtruſtfulneſs of Creditors, and a Proof that a reaſonable Agreement might be preferable to a Confinement, which by utterly ruining the unhappy Debtor, ſeldom anſwers the Expectation of a doubting or mercileſs Creditor.

On Thurſday the 5th inſt. three Soldiers inſiſting on the Ferrymens going over thro' the Ice with them, at New-Brunſwick, in breaking the Ice the Skiff got faſt, and endeavouring to get looſe, one of them fell thro', and was directly carried under the Ice, and loſt. The other got aſhore with ſome Difficulty.
